‘ADVANCED ECONOMIES TO BE BACK ON TRACK BY 2024’

However, developing economies will be 5% below where they would have been otherwise, according to IMF’s Gita Gopinath

THERE HAVE BEEN DIVERGENT RECOVERIES

Speaking at a special session on ‘What next for global growth?’ during the World Economic Forum Annual Meeting 2022 on Wednesday, Gopinath said there have been very divergent recoveries around the world. The First Deputy Managing Director of the International Monetary Fund also noted that the war in Ukraine has been a major setback to the global recovery

‘WE HAVE A COST OF LIVING CRISIS’

- “We had a serious downgrade to the global growth rate and the world continues to face headwinds because we have a cost of living crisis. Prices of commodities including fuel and food are going up around the world,” she said, adding that central banks are trying to tackle such high inflation by raising interest rates

It is among the gravest of offences, says NIA court, wants verdict to serve as deterrent to those drawn to violence

MALIK GETS LIFE TERM FOR FUNDING TERROR IN J&K

ANKITA UPADHYAY @ New Delhi

OBSERVING that funding is the backbone of any operation, including terror, and is among the gravest of offences, a special National Investigation Agency court on Wednesday awarded life imprisonment to separatist leader Yasin Malik in a 2017 case related to terror funding and secessionist activities in the Kashmir Valley.

The sentence also aimed to “serve as deterrence for those who seek to follow a similar path,” special NIA judge Parveen Singh warned.

In Srinagar, there was stray violence after the verdict. Malik’s family members and neighbours staged a protest in at Maisuma, which is where he hails from. The youth of the area, too, resorted to sloganeering and pelted stones on the security personnel, who fired tear gas shells to disperse them.

All shops in Lal Chowk, Maisuma and downtown Srinagar remained shut. Also, mobile internet was suspended in Kashmir as a precautionary measure.

In his verdict, the judge said the prosecution had shown how funds were received from Pakistani establishments, Lashkar-e-Toiba founder Hafeez Saeed and through other hawala operations. “It is these funds that were used to create unrest where under the guise of public protests, paid terror activities of stone pelting and arson at mass scale were committed,” the verdict said.

Malik had earlier pleaded guilty of all charges, including those under the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act, in the terror funding case. “In my considered opinion, it is high time that it is recognised that terror funding is one of the gravest offences and has to be punished more severely,” the judge said.

Malik was produced before the court amid high security, and awarded the life sentence, apart from a fine of ₹10 lakh. While the NIA sought capital punishment, the amicus curiae (friend of court) sought life imprisonment, the minimum punishment in the matter.

On May 10, Yasin had said he would not contest charges levelled against him — Section 16 (terrorist act), 17 (raising funds for terrorist act), 18 (conspiracy to commit terrorist act) and 20 (member of terrorist gang or organisation) of the UAPA and sections 120-B (criminal conspiracy) and 124-A (sedition) of the Indian Penal Code.

The court rubbished Malik’s contention that he was following Gandhian principles of non-violence, saying despite large-scale of violence in the Valley, he never condemned it.

In the Mahatma’s principles, there was no place for violence, howsoever high the objective, the judge said, adding: “It only took one small incident of violence at Chauri Chaura for the Mahatma to call off the entire non-cooperation movement but the convict despite the large scale of violence engulfing the Valley neither condemned the violence nor withdrew his calendar of protest which had led to the said violence.”

The Gupkar Alliance called it unfortunate and a setback to peace efforts. It suggested that he avail of all legal opportunities to contest the verdict. P10

No reform, says judge

“When he claimed to have given up the path of violence after the year 1994, the government...gave him an opportunity to reform, and in good faith, tried to engage in a meaningful dialogue with him, and as admitted by him, gave him every platform to express his opinion,” Special Judge Praveen Singh said.

Royal Patidar keeps RCB title hopes alive

ASHIM SUNAM @ Bengaluru

IN a team studded with stars like Virat Kohli, Glenn Maxwell and others, it takes something out of this world for someone else to grab eyeballs when RCB win matches. A batter from Madhya Pradesh Rajat Patidar scored an unbeaten 54-ball 112, to help RCB beat Lucknow Super Giants by 14 runs at Eden Gardens.

With it, RCB's dream of winning their maiden IPL title is truly alive. They will face Rajasthan Royals in Qualifier 2 in Ahmedabad on Friday. However, this knock of Patidar, who was originally unsold at the IPL auction, ranks right up there among the best ones ever seen in the Playoffs.

The former Bangalore player was eventually snapped by the franchise as Luvnith Sisodia's injury replacement early April. With Dinesh Karthik’s 37, RCB reached 207/4. In reply, Lucknow scored 193/6. MORE ON P15

IISc faces probe over loss of green cover on campus

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

INDIA’S reputed research organisation Indian Institute of Science (IISc), known for its achievements and accolades, is in the news for the wrong reasons this time.

It has been served a notice by the Karnataka forest department over reports of loss of green cover and transportation of logs from its campus. Taking serious note of a series of events occurring on the IISc campus, the forest department has pulled up the ace institute for cutting trees allegedly without permission. It all started with a complaint from locals who noticed trees being cut in the campus and being transported in a truck from Yeshwanthpur exit gate. CONTINUED ON: P2

Texas teen guns down 19 children in school

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

IN one of the worst mass murders in a school in America, an 18-year-old in body armour gunned down 19 children and two teachers at an elementary school in Texas state on Wednesday. The dead students of the Robb Elementary School were aged between 7 years and 10 years, the police said.

The massacre in the heavily Latino town of Uvalde in Texas, was the deadliest shooting at a US school since a gunman killed 20 children and six adults at Sandy Hook Elementary in Newtown, Connecticut, almost a decade ago. The teen opened fire around 11.30 am local time before he was killed by law enforcement officers.

The assailant had turned 18 this month. Soon after, he bought his guns legally — one AR-style rifle from a licensed gun dealer in Uvalde on May 17; 375 rounds of ammunition the next day; and a second rifle on May 20, officials said. P12

Minister Ashwath violated model code of conduct: Mandya ZP CEO report

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

HIGHER Education Minister Dr C N Ashwath Narayan has been found guilty of violating the model code of conduct in a report submitted by Mandya Zilla Panchayat CEO Divya Prabhu. The ZP CEO has submitted the report to the Mandya Deputy Commisioner, Ashwathi.

The report says that acting on a complaint filed by the Secretary of Mandya Congress Committee, who accused Ashwath of misusing his power by taking part in election-related activities in government educational institutions, a probe team visited several educational institutions and gathered evidence against the minister. “On May 16, the minister visited Mandya Institute of Medical Science, Government Women’s College, Mandavya Group of Institutions and PES College. As per the minister’s tour programme, it was not an official visit but the Taluk Panchayat described it as interaction with voters,” the report said.

As per model code of conduct, no minister can combine official visits or tours with electioneering and cannot make use of official machinery or personnel for any poll-related work. The primary probe has found the minister guilty of violating the code of conduct, the ZP CEO said in the report.

PRICEY SPIRITS COULD BE CHEAPER SOON

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

IF everything goes well, expensive liquor in Karnataka will be cheaper. The State Excise Department is planning to reduce the price of expensive liquor after studying the price model in other states.

With this, the Karnataka government is eyeing additional income hoping for an increase in sales. The revenue collection in 2021-22 was ₹26,276.83 cr against their target of Rs 24,580 crore. Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai in his budget announced the target to collect Rs 29,000 in 2022-23.

Excise Minister K Gopaliah told The New Indian Express that they are considering reducing the price of expensive liquor in Karnataka. For this, they are forming five teams, each to visit different states including Maharashtra, Telangana, Kerala , Delhi and West Bengal, to study prices of expensive liquor and the excise duty slabs. “After the elections for the Members of Legislative Council in the first week of June, we will go and study. We will implement it here on a pilot basis,” he said.

Sources from the Excise department said on an average ₹ 75 cr revenue is collected per day in Karnataka.

“In Karnataka, we have 18 different slabs, higher the price of liquor, higher the tax. As many as 85% of the revenue generation is from the first four lower slabs. CONTINUED ON: P4

Green report: KSPCB grades apartments

Assesses 3,000 apartment complexes with 500 units; Bagmane Virgo tops list with highest score of 40

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

HOW green and energy efficient is your apartment complex? Does it comply with all the environment and safety norms prescribed by the state and central government agencies? To know this, take up a test drawn by the Karnataka State Pollution Control Board (KSPCB).

On Wednesday, after an assessment of around 3,000 apartment complexes in the city, each housing over 500 units, KSPCB released a report -- Assessment of Residential Apartments for Green Building Compliance. The highest score of 40 was given to AWHD Sandeep Vihar, Bagmane Virgo, in Doddanekundi village, KR Puram hobli.

The study was taken up with the help of Environmental Management and Policy Research Institute (Empri) and students of RV College of Engineering for 30 days. In the survey, the apartment associations were given a questionnaire with 27 questions, each of which had points for evaluation. The list of questions covered topics like per capita electricity and water consumption and bills, solid waste composting, waste segregation and disposal, installation of solar panels, rainwater harvesting, green spaces, vacant spaces and management of resources.

KSPCB Member Secretary Srinivasalu told TNIE that the aim of the exercise is to make others realise and lead by example. The agenda is also to know the ones that are not complying with the norms and to take action based on violations.

The exercise is to recognise and encourage apartments as Bengaluru is gradually becoming a city of apartments. In the next phase, apartments with 250 units will be assessed.

WHAT ARE GREEN BUILDINGS

According to definition, a green building is a concept of reducing or eliminating the harmful impacts caused by the building design, construction or its operation on the climate and natural environment and to create positive impacts on the surroundings (World Green Building Council, 2022). The buildings in absence of green building components will generate nearly 40 per cent of annual global carbon dioxide emissions. Of those emissions, operations of the buildings are responsible for 28 per cent annually, whereas building materials and construction are responsible for an additional 11 per cent. Green buildings use water, energy and other resources efficiently, reducing waste, pollution and environmental degradation. CO_2 emission from energy use is the dominant greenhouse gas emitted in the buildings sector, followed by hydrofluorocarbons used in refrigeration, air-conditioning and cook stove emissions of methane and nitrous oxide.

SpiceJet ransomware attack delays flights out of airport

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Benglauru

RANSOMWARE attack on SpiceJet systems affected the arrival and departures of several flights to and from Bengaluru's Kempegowda International Airport (KIA). Flyers across India were hit and had to wait for hours, many of them inside the flights.

Flights at KIA were delayed from 5 am onwards. The affected flights are Bengaluru to Delhi (SG136), Hyderabad (SG7614), Pune (SG516), Jabalpur (SG3023), Gwalior (SG3325) and two flights to Darbhanga (SG693, SG453). Chennai-bound flight (SG3027) scheduled to take off at 6.10 am was cancelled.

As for the arrivals, flights from Bagdogra (SG 328), Gwalior (SG 3326) and Darbanga (SG 494) were delayed. The return leg (SG 3028) of the Chennai flight from KIA stood cancelled.

A statement from an official spokesperson of the airline said, "Certain SpiceJet systems faced an attempted ransomware attack last night that impacted and slowed down morning flight departures today. Our IT team has contained and rectified the situation and flights are operating normally now."

Flyers across India took to social media to vent their anger over the issue. Avinash Singh, a passenger, tweeted, "I had a flight from Ahmedabad at 7.20 which had to reach Jaipur at 8.30 and had my exams from 11.30. Who will pay for my degree? @spicejet have mentally harassed and this is not the first time and you can't evade in the name of technical issues @ Jm_schindia."

The flight (SG 2345) from Delhi to Dharmashala took off nearly four-and-a-half hours late.

PALIKE TO PENALISE CONTRACTORS FOR LACK OF SAFETY FOR WORKERS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A day after the storm water drain collapse in Girinagar in Bengaluru South, BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath said the injured labourers' hospital bill will have to be paid by the contractor. He also asked the chief engineer to impose a penalty of Rs 1 lakh against the contractor for damaging the BBMP's image.

"The workers are out of hospital, and only one has serious injuries, but action will be taken against the engineers and contractors. BBMP does not intend to send all contractors to jail, but if anyone is found guilty of playing with the life of labourers, they will be dealt with by law," Girinath said.

With the weather department indicating an early monsoon, the commissioner said over 10,000 potholes have been found, and will be fixed. With the city marooned last week, he said tenders have been cleared and work will be taken up on storm water drains. "We will begin work in 7 to 10 days and in a month's time, silt will be cleared. Contractors will be set a target," he said.

With the Supreme Court giving the go-ahead for BBMP polls, the Palike has started renovating the Council building at a cost of Rs 10 crore. The building earlier had a seating capacity of 270, including 198 elected members. It's capacity will now be 364, to seat corporators, MLAs MPs and MLCs from BBMP.

Girinath said the delimitation of wards is completed, and reservation for OBCs will be left to the government. "In the next two days, draft rules will be sent to the government. Later, objections will be called and 15 days' time given to the public," he opined.

BBMP decentralises powers

BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath on Wednesday signed orders for decentralising powers from the zonal and chief commissioner to the section heads and chief engineers for better and faster execution of works. In the order, Girinath says that while zonal commissioners' approval will be required for administrative and executive works, department heads can issue orders for revenue management, health, town planning, solid waste management, education, horticulture and forest works after going through the technical details.

50 paise rebate on bills for MSMEs

A rebate of 50 paise per unit electricity charges consumed by micro and small scale industries will be given for this financial year, said Bangalore Electricity Supply Corporation Ltd (BESCOM) Managing Director P Rajendra Cholan. Cholan also said an internal committee will be formed to resolve the problems faced by industries from metre testing and vigilance staff during inspection.

Zonal chiefs given power to sanction funds for emergencies

BENGALURU: Housing and BBMP West Zone Minister V Somanna on Wednesday held a meeting to take stock of rain preparedness, before the monsoon arrives. He said that each zonal commissioner has been given special powers to sanction Rs 1 crore for emergency use during the monsoon, and also register a complaint against officers for dereliction of duty. The primary focus is to clear silt early. The meeting comes in the wake of similar special task force meetings by Mahadevapura, East and Bommanahalli zone in-charge ministers. Somanna told reporters that the zonal commissioner will also hold coordination meetings with civic agencies like Bescom, BWSSB, Home Guards, Fire and Emergency Services, NDRF and Civil Defence to review the situation every 15 days. The task force will also deal with solid waste management, fixing potholes and other issues.

Truck carrying logs from IISc seized

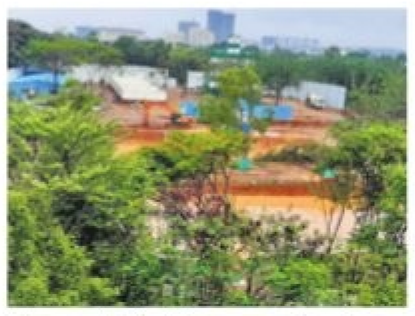
BY the time the forest officials reached the location, the truck was out of the campus. "We seized the truck and inquired from the driver as to what the matter was all about. He admitted to have brought the logs from inside IISc campus. Top officials from the institute however told us that they were not aware of it and put the blame on the security personnel. We have initiated a detailed inquiry into the matter," S S Ravishankar, Deputy Conservator of Forests, Bengaluru Urban, said.

Some trees were axed during the second week of May. However, preliminary investigations have revealed that many more trees have been cut earlier to make way for a hostel, hospital and a medical science institute. "We have seen tree stumps packed with construction debris being taken out of the campus. When we inquired, we were told that the branches have been pruned, but that is not correct as Google Maps also show a change in land use. Last time when a similar complaint was filed, IISc was let off with a warning. But now it cannot be accepted as the internationally reputed organisation has axed trees without permission," said an investigating officer.



The area inside IISc campus where trees have been axed

Kaushal Verma, Associate Professor, Mathematics Department and Chair, Office of Communications said: "Construction of a 1,000-room boys' hostel is going on by utilising the footprint of existing old buildings. We understand that during the demolition of the old buildings, a few tree branches adjacent to these buildings got affected and the agency was trying to shift these branches from the site along with some dead wood. Care is being taken during the construction stage and should the need arise to relocate any tree, IISc is taking the necessary steps to ensure that this is done with the help of best technologies/procedures available."

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

26th May : Lively alignments add a colourful note to the day. Of course, it's all very nice for super-energetic types, but the rest of us can also set our sights on a little extra dose of creative flare. It's a day for dressing up rather than down, for going out rather than staying in. At least, that's the theory!

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Relaxation is all very well, but do maintain your guard. There is still a great deal that can go wrong, even if some things seem to be picking up. This is a time of extremes, and there is little room for moderation. You're on top of your troubles, but you can be just a little too sensitive.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
It is almost impossible to say whether today's lunar influences will soothe your troubled brow or further obscure your view of reality. So much depends on your skill in handling difficult people. Your best course now is to take the path of maximum flexibility.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
The truth of the matter, whether professional or personal, will be obvious next week, so just hold on a little while longer. In the meantime, there's probably no respite from hard work. Don't exhaust yourself, though. After all, you're no use to anyone if you're worn out and flat on your back.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
Emotional difficulties brought about by the challenging relationships of Venus, Mars and Pluto, are surely enough to try the patience of a saint. But there is no reason why you shouldn't give up and walk away from responsibilities which are no longer worthwhile.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
You may still be feeling a little shocked or surprised, and nobody can blame you for being somewhat resentful. Pay more attention to financial affairs under today's mildly confusing lunar influences. The upside is represented by an increasingly adventurous attitude - your horizons are being broadened.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Your ideas are fine, but it may take someone else to stiffen your resolve and make you commit yourself to a particular course of action. The Sun's alignment with a secretive region of your chart may make information difficult to come by, though.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
The Moon's influence over a sector of your horoscope ruling work and self-sacrifice, indicates that this is not the time to abandon your responsibilities or renege on commitments. Complex planetary patterns advise you to stick to your guns - at least until you know exactly what is happening.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
I don't want to keep harking on about the same old things, but you're still passing through an emotional minefield which could set off fireworks in almost any area, personal or professional. Being a Scorpio, though, you are well-fitted to cope with life's little mysteries.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
It will be worth your while to offer an olive branch to partners and associates. Remember the old saying about how it is not good enough just to forgive. One should forgive seven times seven - and then turn the other cheek. High principles should win out over self-interest.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Venus and Jupiter are offering you generous help via close partners, but you may have to ask first. This is no time for reticence, or to be slow in coming forward. The Capricorn who thrives will be he, or she, who abandons normal reserve and shows a bit of cheek.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Although certain individuals are quite pleasant to your face, you know that you might not have been told the entire, unadulterated truth. On the other hand, relationships at work are really quite profitable. Can you make an honest living? I think you can!

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Others may have used emotional ties to try and force you into a particular situation. However, lunar alignments indicate that you have the advantage and that Piscean wit, subtlety and sensitivity will win out. You really are doing very well, so don't blow it!

Check for mold: Schools, daycare centres told

'Reopening of facilities may cause fungal growth, breathing issues'

CHETANA BELAGERE @Bengaluru

PAEDIATRICIANS, pulmonologists and allergy specialists are asking daycare centres and schools to check their premises thoroughly for mold, dust mites and yeast. They say it is important to understand environmental factors contributing to the alarming rise in respiratory chronic diseases among children. Several daycare centres and schools have reopened after two-and-half years and the management needs to go through 'Facility Management' aspects to prevent these.

"When schools reopen, it is not only important to look at logistics, infrastructure and mental adjustments from online to offline, but also the safety and infrastructure aspects. Unused areas tend to collect dust, yeast, fungus, mold and other allergens. So it is important that these areas are cleaned up. Wet areas, roofs and other parts should be thoroughly checked. Mold, fungus and dust mites are known allergens and can cause respiratory disorders," said Dr Ravindra Mehta, Senior Pulmonologist, Apollo Hospitals.

According to experts, an environment where there is movement is generally neat and clean, but an area shut for many years needs to go through 'Facility Management' when reopened, so that it is safe for people to return. As schools and daycare centres have been shut for a long time, cases of respiratory disease will start showing up in children and adults, if these aspects are not taken care of.

Dr Yogesh Kumar Gupta, Head of Paediatric Intensive Care Unit, Fortis Hospitals, Bannerghatta Road, says, "Molds are known to cause various respiratory ailments and this has been proven over time. They can cause issues from simple rhinitis to acute severe asthma attacks in susceptible individuals. The best way to prevent this is to provide good sunshine and ventilation along with regular cleaning and vacuuming."

Warning that children may show symptoms of worsening of asthma, coughing, wheezing, nasal congestion, sore throat, sneezing, rhinitis and even rare forms of chronic respiratory disease known as hypersensitivity pneumonitis due to indoor molds, Dr Balachandra B V, Consultant, Paediatric Allergy, Manipal Hospital, Airport Road, says that decreasing dampness is important. "Schools should repair indoor water leakages, if any, replace carpets with hard flooring, replace wallpapers with paint, ensure ventilation is provided and use 5% ammonia solution to remove mold from bathrooms," he suggested.

Meanwhile, if a child is suffering from regular cough and sneezing, and molds are present in indoor spaces, parents can meet an allergy specialist to get an allergy test to confirm that the child's symptoms are due to mold. Also, usage of prescribed antihistamines (anti-allergy medicines) can be given, say doctors.

Employee drops aged bizman home, kills him

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

A 74-year-old businessman, Jugraj Jain, was murdered and robbed of gold and other valuables by his employee of six months.

The body of the senior citizen was found in the bathroom of his flat. The accused had gagged Jain and tied his hands with a plastic wire, and also used a plastic wire to strangle him to death.

Jain lived with his younger son, daughter-in-law and grandchildren at King's Enclave apartment near the office of the local MLA, on Chamarajpet 4th Main. His son had gone to Goa on a business trip, while his daughter-in-law and her children were visiting her parents' house in Shikaripura. The victim was alone at home when he was murdered.

Police have identified the accused as Bijaram, a native of Rajasthan. Jain was running an electrical shop in Chickpet area, where his elder son J Prakash Chand also has an electrical shop. Chand, the complainant, lives on GK Temple Street in Chickpet.

"Bijaram used to take Jain to the electrical shop and drop him back to the apartment. He was also working at the electrical shop. He was aware that the victim was alone. After killing Jain, he escaped with the valuables. Both his mobile phones are switched off. Efforts are on to arrest him," said an officer who is part of the investigation.

The victim's younger son, Anand Kumar, had left for Goa on Monday. On Tuesday night, after closing the shop in Chickpet, the accused had dropped Jain to the flat. On Wednesday morning, Chand called his father, and when he did not respond, he asked his nephew to check. When there was no response, the family summoned a key-maker and entered the flat using a duplicate key. The incident came to light around 11am.

Police suspect the accused killed Jain on Tuesday night, after dropping him back to the flat.

He is suspected to have thrown chilli powder into the aged man's eyes. Unable to take away all the ornaments, the victim left some silver ornaments in the flat. Details of the missing valuables are being ascertained, Chamarajpet police said.

PSI ENTITLED TO FILE CHARGESHEET, SAYS HC

ENS @Bengaluru

NOTING that a police sub-inspector (PSI) is empowered to investigate a case and file a chargesheet, the Karnataka High Court dismissed a petition filed by an accused in a case of abetment to suicide registered in Bydarahalli Police Station.

The case pertains to suicide by a woman, her three children, and her grandson.

"The contention raised by the senior counsel for the petitioner that chargesheet filed by the PSI, who is an incompetent officer, is not sustainable under the law. On the other hand, there is no defect in the chargesheet filed by the sub inspector after due investigation. Therefore on that ground, the petitioner is not entitled for quashing criminal proceedings", said Justice K Natarajan while dismissing the petition filed by ES Praveen Kumar, who is accused No. 3.

ISRO to share tech knowledge to reduce mortality

ENS @Bengaluru

INDIAN hospitals are set for quality upgradation, leveraging space technology in emergency care and critical care departments, thanks to ISRO. DIPR/SMG/No.132-05/ zenkar/2022-23

KPCC president D K Shivakumar said in Belagavi on Thursday that the BJP has fielded fresh faces instead of experienced leaders in Dharwad, Hassan, Mandya and Mysuru districts in the ensuing MLC elections as they fear losing the polls. The fear of defeat made the BJP induct MLC Basavaraj Horatti into the party, he added.

Vijayendra will get bigger role: BSY

Says BL Santhosh has nothing to do with his son missing out on ticket to contest MLC polls

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FORMER chief minister and senior BJP legislator BS Yediyurappa on Wednesday clarified that party national general secretary (organisation) BL Santhosh had nothing to do with his son and party state vice-president BY Vijayendra not getting the high command's nod to fight the June 3 MLC elections.

"Santhosh's name has been unnecessarily dragged into the issue by a section of the media. There is no need to read between the lines as to why Vijayendra was not given the party ticket. He is the party state vice-president. The high command is likely to provide him with bigger opportunities in the near future," the 78-year-old Lingayat strongman said.

Ignoring the recommendation of the state core committee to field Vijayendra, the party central leadership on Tuesday announced the names of four other candidates.

Yediyurappa asserted that BJP will never let down those who are talented and are loyal, and hoped that there will be some modifications in the party soon.

On whether the party will field Vijayendra in the 2023 Assembly elections, he said there is still time to discuss such issues.

Meanwhile, Yediyurappa, who was to take part in a party event in Tumakuru Rural on Wednesday, gave it a miss which reportedly upset BJP workers, including former MLA B Suresh Gowda. The turn of events may have had an impact on Yediyurappa's itinerary as he decided not to take part in the event on Tuesday itself, sources said.

Not hurt, says Vijayendra

In Mysuru, Vijayendra said he is not upset over the party denying him the ticket. "I was not aware that my name was recommended by the BJP core committee," he maintained. Vijayendra said the party has hundreds of workers like him. "The party will decide whether I should contest or not or from which constituency. But as of now, I am more focussed on party activities," he said.

BJP's social engineering to mute Cong?

K SHIVA KUMAR @Mysuru

CONTINUING with its social engineering project, BJP on Tuesday picked candidates for the Legislative Council polls aiming to expand its base across the caste spectrum.

With a greater representation for OBCs and Dalits, BJP has delivered a sucker punch to Congress this time. It has also silenced its detractors, especially those who were eager to attack the party if it had announced the candidature of BY Viyendra, pointing to BJP's own version of dynasty politics.

The choice of MLC poll candidates may take the sting out of Congress' criticism against BJP that it is anti-Dalit, anti-deprived classes and a party of upper castes and Sanghis. BJP has inducted over 40 ministers from these sections in the Union Cabinet and has also tried and succeeded using the social engineering formula in Uttar Pradesh.

Ahead of the selection of candidates for the MLC polls, several names were doing the rounds, including that of Industries Minister Murugesh Nirani. The party has picked Chalavadi Narayanaswamy from SC (right) as the community had no representation in the Council after Veeraiah, Hemalatha Nayak from the ST community and S Keshava Prasad from the Kuruvina Shetty community that has no political representation.

From the majority Lingayat community, it has chosen Laxman Savadi with the hope that he could influence some pockets in North Karnataka as he has done good work in the cooperative sector.

Narayanswamy, once a staunch follower of Mallikarjun Kharge and had served Congress for years, fell out after he was denied a ticket to contest Assembly polls. BJP has rewarded him for bringing Dalits into the party fold.

Hemalatha's choice is a surprise and the nod has come because of her efforts to actively organise the party in the region. R Raghu from the washermen community had lost the local body polls recently, while Shantharam Siddi will represent the Siddi community.

BJP General Secretary Siddaraju said the party wanted to take all sections of society along in building the nation. "For ages, Congress has used these communities as vote banks and not considered them in sharing power," he added.

Congress is fielding Nagaraj Yadav and Abdul Jabbar from the OBC and minority community, respectively, instead of preferring business tycoons or members of dominant political families. KPCC spokesman M Lakshman said Congress is committed to social justice and if the party had more seats, it would have chosen someone from the upper castes too.

But party insiders said the BJP's recent decisions have made people from SC/ST and OBCs to rethink their support as many neglected communities are being recognised.

JDS attempts to patch up, HDK calls disgruntled legislators

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@Bengaluru

JDS and party leader HD Kumaraswamy are seemingly continuing their efforts to woo disgruntled MLAs, who are reportedly ready to quit the party ahead of the 2023 Assembly elections. Party sources said Kumaraswamy wants to send out feelers that all is not well within Congress and BJP, which denied an MLC ticket to BY Vijayendra. "I don't think he was denied a ticket because of any principles. It will definitely boomerang on BJP," he said.

Ahead of the June 3 MLC elections and June 10 Rajya Sabha polls, Kumaraswamy has been talking over phone and trying to patch up with the MLAs who were not on talking terms with him. They include former minister and Gubbi MLA SR Srinivas, against whom JDS had pitched another Vokkaliga Nagaraju, Arasikere MLA KM Shivalinge Gowda and Arakalagudu MLA AT Ramaswamy. All of them had given 'Janata Jaladhare' events a miss. Both former PM HD Deve Gowda and former minister HD Revanna took them to task for not attending the events, sources added. "Kumaraswamy now wants to forget the past and move on, to bring the party back to power," a leader told TNIE.

Kumaraswamy met former minister GT Devegowda and condoled the death of his grandchild recently. Congress Legislature Party leader Siddaramaiah too visited Devegowda's family. But some Vokkaliga leaders in JDS are still not sure of tickets for themselves and their children. The situation is no different in Congress as it stated recently that it will give one ticket per family. With this, there is hope in JDS that Devegowda may stay back in the party. The bad blood between Siddaramaiah and KPCC president DK Shivakumar in Congress too is playing on the minds of some of these fence-sitters, sources said. "Kumarawamy called, but I still have to take a decision," a JDS MLA said.

KPCC gen secy lashes out at top brass for ignoring women

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE newly-appointed general secretary of Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee Kavitha Reddy lashed out at her party for not giving tickets to women for the Council elections. "It is disturbing that 50 per cent of the population is ignored'' she said.

In a viral video message, she said this is not for the first time, but the third instance, where women's representation in the Council is ignored. She predicted that the party will not announce a woman candidate for the Rajya Sabha polls too.

"This has disappointed many women party workers and it has been conveyed to party leaders. Every time, there is some reason to not give tickets to women. When we ask for tickets for MLA elections, they say we don't have winnability or resources. For MLC polls, they say they are committed to give tickets to certain people based on caste," said Kavitha, who was among the aspirants for the June 3 MLC polls.

She said, "Even in local body elections, women reservation is restricted to the wife or sister or daughter of netas. This is why women in ULBs are not reaching the Assembly or Council."

BJP eyes booths to boost prospects in BBMP polls

ENS @ Bengaluru

BJP national president JP Nadda on Wednesday launched the party's booth strengthening programme in New Delhi and held a virtual meeting with party MPs and MLAs from across the country, including Bengaluru. The party will now be focusing on booths which is expected to help it in the ensuing polls to Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP).

Though this exercise has been carried keeping in mind the 2024 Lok Sabha polls, it is also expected to help the saffron party not just in the BBMP elections, but also in the 2023 Assembly polls in Karnataka.

Bengaluru South MP Tejasvi Surya, ministers R Ashoka and K Gopalaiah, MLAs M Krishnappa, Uday Garudachar and others took part in the discussions.

Speaking to TNIE, Gopaliah, MLA for Mahalakshmi Layout, said they have 100 booths in each Lok Sabha constituency. "Our party workers, headed by leaders, will focus on these booths, interacting with voters, making an attempt to resolve their grievances and also taking them into confidence... we will have better reach in each booth," he said.

BJP sources said these measures will help the party to reach every person in the booth. "We will have more reach and this will help us in the BBMP polls. It is necessary for us to win the BBMP polls ahead of the 2023 Assembly elections," a BJP leader said.

Revenue Minister R Ashok, MLA for Padmanabha Nagar, said in order to strengthen booths, teams from Delhi will visit them. "We have divided booths into A, B and C. 'A' booths are the ones where we get more votes, 'B' is where we get votes equal to that of opposition parties and 'C' is where we get less votes. We are now focusing on B and C category booths," he said.

ASTROLOGER CLAIMS TEMPLE EXISTED AT MALALI MOSQUE SITE

VINCENT D'SOUZA
@ Mangaluru

THE controversy over a 'temple-like' structure found in a centuries-old mosque at Malali near Mangaluru got a new twist on Wednesday with an astrologer from Kerala claiming that a Shaiva temple existed at the site during the Purvakala or olden days.

GP Gopalakrishna Panicker, the astrologer, made some calculations using a drawing on a wooden plank, betel leaves etc, in response to a question raised by some local residents as per a Hindu practice called 'Tambula Prashne' organised at Ramanjaneya Mandir here.

Panicker said that some items associated with the temple are still being used in some temples or mutts. The resurrection of the temple will do good to the village. The disputed place can be reclaimed without any hassles and one should pursue the matter without any hostility, he added.

He advised the residents to conduct a Gana Homa and Devi Puje in Polali Rajarajeshwari Temple, Vishnumurthy Temple and Narayan Mutt. To know more about the history of the disputed place, he suggested that the people conduct an Ashtamangala Prashne. Meanwhile, security was beefed up and Section 144 was imposed in Malali. Soon after the ritual was over, VHP leader Sharan Pumpwell appealed to Muslim religious and political leaders to hand over the place to Hindus.

Y Bharath Shetty, local MLA from BJP, who was also present at Tambula Prashne, stressed that an archaeological survey should be conducted at the site to let people know the truth. Simultaneously, VHP and Bajrang Dal too will gather historical references to prove that a temple existed there, he said.

Democratic Youth Federation of India (DYFI) state president Muneer Katipalla accused BJP and VHP of using rituals like Tambula Prashne to manipulate people's beliefs and sentiments with an intention of triggering communal violence. "Pumpwell and his communal gang should be immediately arrested and thrown behind bars. They should not be allowed to enter Malali," he said.

"Who gave the authority to VHP to decide whether it is a mosque or temple? Why is it that the Dakshina Kannada deputy commissioner and Mangaluru city police commissioner are helpless before leaders like Pumpwell," he wondered.

HDK: Will land donated by Tipu be given back if Muslims ask?

MYSURU: At a time when the Srirangapatna Jamia Masjid issue is on the boil, and reclaiming of temples has taken the front seat, senior JDS leader HD Kumaraswamy on Wednesday asked if the land donated by Tipu Sultan to temples will be returned if Muslims demand it. On the JDS stand in the Jamia Masjid controversy, he said, "Instead of worrying and reclaiming these temples, the focus must be on people's welfare and livelihood." Responding to Tambula Prashne in Mangaluru after finding a temple-Like structure inside a mosque, he said that more than the result of the ritual, the message from 'Keshava Krupa' (BJP head office) will be taken into consideration. "There will be no better future for the country if such an atmosphere is created. For the next one year, such controversies are expected to erupt, which will hamper the peace and harmony of this country," he pointed out. ENS

State's excise duty is the highest in the country

THE lowest four slabs are sold more, which comes to around Rs 56 to Rs 80 per 180 ml of liquor. The remaining 15 per cent of the revenue comes from the remaining 14 slabs. If the price of top few slabs — which includes the expensive liquor — are slashed, the sales and the revenue from the lower slab will not get affected," sources said.

Karnataka is one of the top states in consumption of liquor, but its excise duty is the highest leading to lower revenue generation.

Ashish Kothare, former head of Bengaluru Chapter of National Restaurants Association of India, said in Karnataka, lower slab liquor is widely sold. "If the state reduces the top slab prices, it is making an attempt to allow people to upscale and can afford better quality liquor. The existing price is high. With this, the state can hope to get more revenue as they are focusing on earning more from the slab which is not touched much,'' he said. He further said the cost of a Jameson Irish Whiskey bottle is ₹3,500 in Karnataka, while the same bottle costs Rs 2,460 in Delhi.

Defeat BJP to stop India going Lanka way: Cong

THE Congress on Wednesday said India will go the Sri Lanka way due to anti-farmer policies and rampant corruption in BJP. Asking people to oust BJP government both at the Centre and in Karnataka, CLP leader Siddaramaiah said that the BJP is dividing society and threatening peace and harmony. "PM Modi's misrule has resulted in high inflation, prices of essential commodities rising, high unemployment and problems in the farm sector," he said.

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Wednesday invited international firms to invest in Karnataka and be part of its success story.

Speaking at the World Economic Forum meeting in Davos, Bommai invited global investors to the Bengaluru Tech Summit and the Global Investors Meet (GIM) to be held in Bengaluru in November. Bommai said the State Government has come up with a Research and Development (R&D) policy and provides incentives to the firms that create more employment opportunities. Firms investing in Karnataka can make use of both the policies, the CM said. CEO of Ingka Group (Ikea) Jester Brodin met Bommai and held discussions in the backdrop of an Ikea store being opened in Bengaluru. The Ikea storeis set to be inaugurated at Nagasandra in Bengaluru in June. The India head office of Ikea is in Bengaluru and issues related to extensive use of bamboo and other locally available raw material in the making of furniture came up for discussion during the meeting.

During his meeting with the MD and CEO of Axis Bank Amitabh Chaudhry, Bommai suggested Axis Bank take up the up-gradation of some of the engineering colleges and universities in the state under its CSR programmes.

Will run parallel programme to ensure kids learn Constitution: Devanuru

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Mysuru

WRITER Devanuru Mahadeva, who had opposed inclusion of his writings in textbooks after being upset with the debate and discussion over omission and inclusion of several chapters, has said that he and several like-minded people would strive to design a parallel programme to ensure that students learn the Indian Constitution.

"It is not us who are getting diverted but them who have been diverted after getting instructions from the Sangh Parivar of Nagpur," the 'Odalala' writer told the media here on Wednesday responding to the statements of Education Minister BC Nagesh.

"We have plans to design a new programme for students, especially those studying from Class 5-10. We will try to fill the void which has been created. Students are forgetting the Constitution, which we will be taught on various platforms, including online, WhatsApp and Facebook by experts. The future generation should not fall to superstitions and should have scientific temperament and be secular," he added.

Will try to talk to Devanuru: Nagesh

A day after Devanuru Mahadeva opposed inclusion of his writing in school textbooks, Education Minister BC Nagesh said that six months have passed since the revision of textbooks.

"The books have been already printed and on what basis is Devanuru Mahadeva withdrawing permission to publish his write up?... we don't know. He is a well-known writer and I will not react to his statement. I will try to talk to him," Nagesh said.

"Without even reading the books which have been printed, the Congress is making baseless charges," he said, while hitting out at the party for opposing BJP every move.

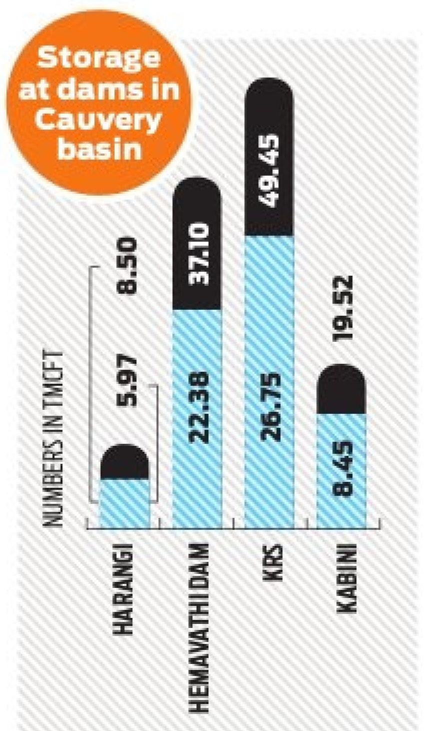
K'taka releases excess water to TN

277 tmcft as against required 177.25 tmcft flows to neighbouring state for entire water year



SHILPA P @Bengaluru

WITH 132 per cent excess pre-monsoon showers since January this year, and good southwest monsoon and excess northeast monsoon, the state has already released 100 tmcft of excess Cauvery water to Tamil Nadu for the June 2021 to May 2022 water year.

The state has released 277 tmcft as against the required 177.25 tmcft for the entire water year, as per the final order of the Cauvery Water Disputes Tribunal, said sources in the Karnataka State Natural Disaster Monitoring Centre (KSNDMC).

"Since January this year, the state has received 231 mm of pre-monsoon rainfall as against the norm of 100mm, the highest in 50 years," said former director of KSNDMC, Dr GS Srinivas Reddy. South-interior Karnataka, including the Cauvery basin, has received 120 per cent excess pre-monsoon rainfall, he added.

During the southwest monsoon, from June 1 to September 30 last year, the state overall had a deficit of 8 per cent, but south-interior Karnataka received 4 per cent excess. During the northeast monsoon, from October 1 to December 30 last year, the state had 88 per cent excess rainfall, the highest in 60 years. South-interior Karnataka received 140 per cent excess.

"Due to good rain since 2018, we have been releasing excess Cauvery water in advance to Tamil Nadu. In the June 2020-May 2021 water year too, the state released 211.34 tmcft of water, which was 34 tmcft excess. Between June 2019 and May 2020, the State had released 273 tmcft, which was 95.75 tmcft excess. All the four reservoirs in the Cauvery basin, including Harangi, Hemavathi, KRS and Kabini, can hold 104 tmcft of live storage and 114 tmcft of gross storage. If there is a balancing reservoir at Mekedatu, we can store 67 tmcft. The Tribunal has set a month-wise allocation of water to be released to Tamil Nadu. But at times, when we do not get adequate rain, we can release it from Mekedatu," he reasoned.

Ramalingam told reporters during BEL's annual press conference here on Wednesday, that the PSU had registered a turnover growth of 9 per cent, despite challenges due to the Covid-19 pandemic, global chip shortage, stiff competition, and logistics being badly affected due to the Russia-Ukraine war.

Ramalingam said sales from defence business is 88 per cent, and have increased compared to last year (80%).

Some of the major orders executed during the year include Long Range Surface-to-Air Missiles, Akash Weapon System, Fire Control System, Integrated Air Command & Control System, Advanced Composite Communication System, Integrated Electronic Warfare Suite, and Coastal Surveillance System.

Noting that the BEL had introduced new products and systems such as Laser Fence System, IR Jammer for Active Tank Protection System, Ramalingam added, "The company's future thrust areas are Quantum Cryptography, Photonics-based EW Systems, High-Power Lasers, Geospatial Analytics, Image Profiling using LiDARs, Drone Guard Systems, Intelligent Process Automation, AI-based products, Unmanned Systems, etc.,"

HC quashes KPSC order on job applicant

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court has come to the rescue of an applicant whose candidature was rejected by the Karnataka Public Service Commission (KPSC) for Motor Vehicle Inspector's post on the basis of a wrong report issued by the Medical Board, Bowring Hospital, that the candidate suffered from colour blindness and was half centimeter shorter than the prescribed height.

A division bench of Justice B Veerappa and Justice S Rachaiah directed KPSC to reconsider the petitioner's claim for the Motor Vehicle Inspector post, as he had fulfilled the eligibility of minimum physical standard test under the rules with regard to height and vision, as per the report submitted by Minto Ophthalmic Hospital, based on the directions of the court.

The court also said it was high time the state government appointed a permanent Medical Board to ensure transparency in the selection process, instead of giving KPSC a free hand to choose a Medical Board and experts for recruitment.

"When this court appointed the Medical Board, Minto Hospital, the report is in favour of the petitioner which clearly indicates that the Medical Board, Bowring Hospital, is not discharging its duty properly. Innocent people like the petitioner have to suffer and it is high time the state government prescribes a particular Medical Board for examining candidates..." the court observed.

2 NIFT officials booked for caste discrimination

SAHAYA NOVINSTON LOBO @Chennai

CHENNAI police have booked two top officials of the premier National Institute of Fashion Technology (NIFT) on charges of practising caste-based discrimination against a senior administrative official from an SC community.

Although the FIR was filed on May 8, the complainant, K Ilanchezhian, a senior assistant director of the institute under the Union Textiles Ministry, said he was never given a copy, and only managed to access it from the State police website on Tuesday.

"The institute's director, Anitha Mabel Manohar, humiliated the victim by shifting his office from the main building to a student hostel room. His office space was allotted to his junior, a research assistant who belongs to a higher caste," said a senior police officer, quoting the FIR. As per the FIR, registered by the Taramani police, a notice was issued allotting the victim a separate car parking slot on the rear side of the campus, and he was targeted by the accused from September 2020 to March 2022.

Besides Anitha, the FIR also names the institute's joint director B Narasimhan. Both have been booked under Section 3 (1) (r) of the SC/ST (Prevention of Atrocities) Act, 1989, which deals with intentionally insulting a member of an SC/ST community in public view.

According to the FIR, Anitha had filed a complaint against Ilanchezhian with the Internal Complaints Committee (ICC) in 2020. In February 2022, the ICC said the complaint did not fall under its purview.

They will visit Sakrabyle Elephant Camp, Kavi Mane and Kavi Shaila at Kuvempu's birthplace, Kuppalli. To top the trip will be typical Malnad dishes, including pathrode, seke unde and other delicacies.

KTF Vice-President M Ravi said, "As most of the travel agents are not aware of these unexplored destinations, we are taking them on an orientation trip, so they can share their experiences on social media, and sell the ideas to agents of other states."

A WATERSHED IN ATTEMPTS TO CURB FAKE ENCOUNTERS

The report of the Justice V S Sirpurkar Commission submitted to the Supreme Court on the death in an “encounter” of four youths accused in the gang-rape and murder of 26-year-old veterinarian Disha in 2019. This is a watershed in the attempts to curb extra-judicial killings. The Commission, in its 387-page report, has hauled the police over live coals for the inconsistencies that had crept into their submissions ad infinitum and even recommended prosecution of the 10 policemen under Section 302 of IPC, among others, for their involvement in the fake encounter. The report would hopefully serve as a deterrent.

That police can get away with anything including murder has been proved several times in the past, barring a few cases where the cops responsible were tried. There is no doubt that Disha’s rape and murder on the night of 27 November 2019, near Shahshabad, aroused nationwide indignation. It is possible that this public outcry led to the gunning down of the four youths by police in the early hours of December 6 to deliver vigilante justice even before they were proved guilty of their crime in any court of law. When the news about Disha’s gory end spread like wildfire, the collective conscience of society was so badly shaken that there were calls for instant justice. In fact, when the four youths died in the “encounter”, the heroism of the police was celebrated. Even Nirbhaya’s mother had said in Delhi that justice for her daughter was at last done in Hyderabad.

But emotions should not be allowed to get the better of the established practices, which are there for a reason. All crimes, including those in which the police are suspects, should be tried in a court of law. The Sirpurkar Commission has made several suggestions for better policing, which include mandatory compliance with the constitutional and statutory requirements during the arrest, video recording of all investigative processes, and wearing of body-worn cameras. But when the police themselves are suspects in crimes like fake encounters, who would enforce them?

PREVENTING ACCIDENTS ON OUR HIGHWAYS

A horrendous head-on collision between a bus and truck on the Hubballi-Dharwad bypass link road on National Highway 48, killed eight and injured 26 on Monday night. The accident raises several questions on the aspects of safety about driving on Indian highways. This particular segment that stretches over 32 kilometres can contest for inclusion in the most dangerous roads in the country, not that it is treacherous but because it has just two lanes—each in the opposite direction. This is the only stretch on the 2,807 km-long NH 48 (from Delhi to Tamil Nadu, passing through Haryana, Rajasthan, Gujarat, Maharashtra and Karnataka) that is a two-lane segment. Work to expand it is yet to begin after the National Highway Authority of India (NHAI) called for tenders to widen it into a six-lane road.

India’s national highways and expressways have seen more than 1.16 lakh accidents with 47,984 fatalities in 2020 alone, the Parliament was informed on 22 December 2021. According to NHAI data on highway segments where the most number of accidents take place—referred to as ‘black spots’—Tamil Nadu has the most with 496, followed by West Bengal (450) and Karnataka (408). The NHAI is said to have rectified 61% of the black spots on national highways across India. The rectification involves adding safety features like expanding roads and their shoulders, adding medians, installing reflectors and signage, culvert protection barricades, among others. However, a significant cause behind these accidents—fatal or otherwise—are the motorists themselves. What adds to the danger of driving is the common Indian motorist’s behaviour. They seem to be in a huge hurry when they take control of a vehicle. The urge to overtake other vehicles at high speeds on highways is a danger even on multi-lane roads with adequate space for each lane.

While the NHAI is trying to reduce black spots, the Central and state governments need to put in place a strict enforcement mechanism using sophisticated technologies to maintain surveillance on negligent and overspeeding drivers on the highways. Violators have to be strictly penalised. While enforcement exists in cities and towns to an extent, it is conspicuous by its absence on the highways. And that is proving costly.

While the last-mile delivery of several welfare programmes and schemes is responsible for the Centre’s popularity, the messaging by the PM has also played a key role

EIGHT YEARS ON, THE REASONS FOR MODI GOVT’S SUCCESS

EXPRESS ILLUSTRATION

VINAY SAHASRABUDDHE

President, ICCR, and BJP Rajya Sabha MP

While the most distinguishing feature of the last eight years of this government has been the success achieved by Prime Minister Narendra Modi in ensuring last-mile delivery of several welfare programmes and schemes, the messaging that he has successfully achieved cannot be missed. Modi is known as a great communicator due to the substance as well as his style of communication. The timing, venue and occasion that he carefully chooses also reflect his thoughtfulness. As his government celebrates its eighth anniversary, it would be instructive to understand how at least eight of his key appeals were enthusiastically received by the people over these years.

Let’s start with Swachch Bharat, Modi’s message for Clean India. An ambitious programme, it aimed basically at making villages and municipal areas free from open defecation. This was structured in a way to avoid mistakes of the past while embarking on several innovative approaches. Districts were made the basic unit for the campaign, with emphasis on construction of houses with toilets in a structured manner with evidence-based release of funds at every stage. A nationwide campaign with massive efforts to ensure public participation was the key feature of this mission. Essentially a massive behavioural change movement, the government’s efforts were acclaimed by the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine (LSHTM). In 2019, the director of its Environmental Health Group wrote: “Modi kept up the pressure by regularly reminding the country how badly toilets were needed for the sake of health and dignity, especially by women.” Up and down the country, once-sceptical bureaucrats began to catch on. Slowly, bureaucrats across the country began to agree with this idea. They swung into action, leaving air-conditioned offices for dusty, distant villages—they would set up mass rallies and sometimes wake up at 4 a.m for open-defecation vigilance sessions.

Apart from such messages centred around government action, other appeals from Modi have also been positively received by people. They feel strongly connected with him even after eight years. The PM appealed to citizens and told them to purchase at least one apparel made of Khadi every year—this had a good impact. According to the KVIC, production of Khadi goods saw an increase of 172% during the last seven years.

In April 2021, PM Modi made an appeal to the people—in continuation of his call for being Vocal for Local—to team up to help the Indian wooden toy industry. Since then, the toy industry has seen its sales going up. A Varanasi craftsman admitted that after the PM’s appeal in Mann Ki Baat, the morale of the toy manufacturing artisans went up. Now, even battery-operated wooden toys are being manufactured as they are in great demand.

Similarly, Modi’s appeal for more cashless transactions has also seen a remarkable response. Last April, the PM rightly observed that online payments are shaping a vibrant digital economy as transactions worth ₹20,000 crore are conducted online every day. He said, “This is not only increasing facilities in the country but also encouraging an environment of honesty.”

Modi’s appeals have had a transformational impact. The flagship scheme of his government, Beti Bachao, Beti Padhao, was essentially a behavioural-change project. Seven years down the line, statistics suggest that it is working. This has resulted in increased awareness and sensitisation of the masses regarding prevalence of gender bias and the role of community in eradicating it. In the last six years, the Sex Ratio at Birth (SRB) has improved by 16 points from 918 in 2014–15 to 934 in 2019–20. Gross Enrolment Ratio of girls in the schools at the secondary level has improved from 77.45 to 81.32. What is more remarkable is that some districts that had a very low SRB in 2014–15 have shown huge improvement after the scheme was implemented. These districts are Mau (Uttar Pradesh) from 694 (2014–15) to 951 (2019–20), Karnal (Haryana) from 758 (2014–15) to 898 (2019–20), Mahendergarh (Haryana) from 791 (2014–15) to 919 (2019–20), Rewari (Haryana) from 803 (2014–15) to 924 (2019–20), and Patiala (Punjab) from 847 (2014–15) to 933 (2019–20).

Modi’s appeals have had a transformational impact. The flagship scheme of his government, Beti Bachao, Beti Padhao, was essentially a behavioural-change project. Seven years down the line, statistics suggest that it is working. In the last six years, the sex ratio at birth has improved by 16 points from 918 in 2014–15 to 934 in 2019–20

One of the most innovative projects of this government is Ek Bharat, Shreshtha Bharat, a brainchild of the PM. Under this scheme, Modi has appealed to citizens to learn at least 300 words of any other Indian language and get some working knowledge. At the macro level, emphasis on regional languages for knowledge dissemination was taken even further. Today, engineering students are free to learn in at least 12 regional languages. Educational institutions have even prepared for technology and medicine courses in regional languages, something unimaginable a few years ago.

The most powerful message of the PM during pandemic times was Atmanirbhar Bharat. A carefully chosen term, Atmanirbharata or self-reliance is many times more than Swavalamban of self-sufficiency. Acutely conscious of the changing global order, it was his foresight that made India self-reliant in critical areas like vaccine manufacturing. Today, attempts are on the anvil to achieve Atmanirbharata in defence production too.

Finally, there is the PM’s appeal for Sabka Prayas, or contribution to nation-building by every citizen. He started his journey with Sab Ka Saath, Sab Ka Vikas and later added Sab ka Vishwas. These were essentially the policy perspectives of his government. With Sab Ka Prayas, an educative appeal, he has told countrymen that every citizen will also have to contribute.

Generally, eight years is considered too long a span for the honeymoon period to last. However, with Modi in command, the overall scenario is that the nation continues to cheer on.

THE ETERNAL DICE GAME OF SHIVA AND PARVATI

SAURABH SAXENA

Founder of Puratattva, a documentation of heritage sites

Our epics, puranas and Sanskrit classical literature are replete with lila-stories (spectacles) of various Gods. One such lila is the game of dice between Lord Shiva and Goddess Parvati. In the foreground, the lila appears to be a simple sport between a couple; however, in the background, it hides a deeper metaphysical meaning.

A game of dice between Shiva and Parvati unfolds in the Skanda Purana. One day, Narada visited Kailash, the mountain abode of Shiva. When asked about the reason for his visit, Narada said: “I came here for some sports.” Parvati asked: “What game do you have in mind?” Narada replied: “The game of dice has many forms, and the two of you are likely to find it pleasing.” However, Narada disclaimed any knowledge of the game, leading Parvati to suggest a game of dice between her and the Lord. Soon, Shiva and Parvati got absorbed in the game while Narada watched this to his satisfaction. The Goddess played the game deceitfully; however, the first round was won by Shiva. In the next round, Shiva put his crescent-moon, necklace and earrings at stake; however, the round was won by Parvati. When Parvati claimed her winnings, an argument broke out. Shiva claimed that he could not be defeated as no living being could ever overcome him. Narada, Bhringi and others came in support of Shiva saying that he was the Supreme God and could not be defeated. Parvati did not budge, and the argument ended with Shiva leaving for the Siddhatavi forest after being insulted by Parvati. The Purana later narrates how Parvati won Shiva back taking the form of a young sabari (tribal) girl.

The narrative is further extended in the classical Sanskrit works by inserting emotions, feelings and visual sequences. In all these tellings, the fact remains that Shiva won a few early rounds; however, in the end, he lost the game and all his belongings. In a few specific instances, the visual depiction of Parvati’s ganas (dwarf attendants) taking away the winnings including the serpents, jewels, crescent-moon and especially Nandi is very apparent.

In the Indian sculptural repertoire, many magnificent sculptures exist on this theme. A few most prominent and often-talked-about sculptures are that of the Elephanta Cave and the Rameshvara and Dumar Lena Caves at Ellora. While these are single-panel representations, a few cases exist where the story is depicted in a sequence of multiple panels. Two such examples are known to the author, one in the Mukhalingam temple complex in Srikakulam (Andhra Pradesh) and another at the Pataleshvara Temple in Malhar (Chhattisgarh).

The Rameshvara Cave sculpture is a single panel divided into two parts. The scene above shows Shiva and Parvati engaged in the game. The scene below depicts teasing and the taking away of Nandi. The below panel is filled with the presence of ganas—shown pulling various parts of Nandi, some biting his tail, some pulling his legs and some mounted on his back. Nandi is being pulled towards the right where Parvati is seated on a pedestal.

At Malhar, two panels on the dvarashakha (door bands) depict the theme in a very minimalistic fashion as the space available there does not allow a full explosion of features and figures. In the first panel, Shiva and Parvati occupy the prominent place on the left and the right with the game board in the middle and Ganesha in the background. The next panel has only three figures—Nandi, Bhringi and a female gana of Parvati. Bhringi is shown clasping the head of the bull while the female gana is in a posture of driving away Nandi.

(L) Sculpture of Shiva and Parvati playing dice in Pataleshvara Temple, Malhar; (R) image showing Parvati’s ganas taking away Nandi in the same Chhattisgarh temple

While the Skanda Purana is silent on the treatment of Nandi, we find a few references to this story in Sanskrit literature. A very subtle description of the scene where Nandi is being driven away by the ganas of Parvati is narrated by Abhinanda. He writes:

“Let go his horn, Bhringin, / And Ganesha, drop his tail. / Ah, but you are sad, Nandin! / Poor, Mahakala! Clasp not his neck.” / With such words being led to the feet of Parvati / May the bull with turning neck and dewlap swaying, / Still looking at his three-eyed master who has lost at dice.”

In another instance of this telling, Ratnakara mentions this episode in his Haravijaya as below:

“The Goddess had beat him / And the troops were dragging off / His reluctant, aged bull, / Which dug in its hooves, leaving deep marks, / All over that mountain.”

The eternal dice game of Shiva and Parvati has many hidden messages. On the face of it, it appears to be a clash between Godheads, male and female, where the former stresses that he is invincible and cannot be defeated. It also tells us once the game is started, there is no escaping the consequences and most of the time the result is destruction and downfall. In a metaphysical sense, the game represents time, and the dice throws are the chaturyugas. The game produces time and without the game, there is no time, no space and no world.

Misusing public office

The Punjab CM sacking his health minister on corruption charges is a welcome sign. The minister misused public office and went against the oath that he had taken at the time of his appointment. It is unfortunate that some of our ministers have become commission agents.

K V Ramana Murthy, Secunderabad

Playing to the gallery

Sacking Punjab Health Minister Vijay Singla over allegations of corruption and sending him to three-day police remand appears a bit sensational (Mann sacks his corrupt minister, May 25). Natural justice demanded that Singla should have been heard before being humiliated. Zero tolerance toward corruption should not amount to playing to the gallery and denial of natural justice.

Taking on corruption

Kudos to the Punjab CM for his unswerving stand against corruption and ordering a police probe. The CM has acted without any bias and this has brought credibility to the government. The AAP’s reputation thus remains intact.

Pan-Indian visionary

When the very word Konaseema sounds sweet with its typical Telugu name and distinct cultural significance, why change it? Dr Ambedkar is a pan-Indian visionary and his name should not be confined to any administrative unit of a state. A prestigious state-level institution can instead be named after him. In fact, if districts continue to be named after leaders, a large number of them will be left out.

Rahul, Corbyn and Pak

The BJP has demanded clarification from the Congress over Rahul Gandhi’s meeting with British politician Jeremy Corbyn, who is known for his anti-India views on Kashmir. In that case, the PM has no moral authority to meet his Pakistani counterpart, the person who heads the most anti-India establishment on Earth, in any forum in the future.

Dr George Jacob, Kochi

Political violence shocking

It is shocking to see a BJP functionary belonging to the SC/ST hacked to death in Chennai. It is a matter of concern to note that this happened though the victim had police protection according to reports. The state government has to get its act together on the law-and-order front. Political violence is common in a neighbouring state and TN should not go down that road.

K Ramachandran, Chennai

Act against extremism

The video clip that went viral during Alappuzha demonstration by the PFI proved right what the BJP chief had said during his recent visit—that Kerala is becoming a breeding ground for Islamic terror. It is astounding that the LDF government is unmindful of all this, while being enthusiastic about booking individuals like ex-MLA P C George.

I have been a regular subscriber of The Morning Standard for over two years now. It has rich content and gives space to both the left and right. And the new page on southern India is fantastic as it helps us know what is happening in that part of the country.

IMF PRAISES INDIA EVEN AS RANIL TAKES OATH AS FM

At Davos, IMF chief says India's aid to Lanka is commendable; Ranil Wickremesinghe in touch with global agencies

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

SRI Lankan Prime Minister Ranil Wickremesinghe on Wednesday took oath as the finance minister. President Gotabaya Rajapaksha was present during the swearing-in at the President's house in Colombo.

The country is facing its worst economic crisis in which Wickremesinghe has to spruce up efforts to get grants, redirect funds and keep the citizens in the loop about the long road to recovery. The PM said he would present an interim budget within six weeks and redirect funds from infrastructure projects into a two-year relief programme. He cautioned that inflation would skyrocket to 40% in the coming weeks, adding to the pressure on the people.

India has been pitching in with help and has extended over $3.5 billion as line of credit, which has facilitated the Lankans to get continuous supply of essential products like fuel and medicines.

The IMF chief Kristalina Georgieva has complimented India's efforts. "Our technical team is on the ground trying to assess the situation and see how it can be managed. I would also like to express gratitude to India for being a good friend of Sri Lanka and advocating for Sri Lanka in such difficult times," said Georgieva.

"We all need to be increasingly concerned about the growing economic divergence in various economies. Rather than catching up with the better off, poor countries are falling further behind," the IMF chief said at a panel discussion at the World Economic Forum in Davos on Wednesday.

On his part, Wickremesinghe said he was in touch with global financial organisations. He has also announced a debt restructuring plan. Wickremesinghe is also in talks with USAID and IMF for bailout packages.

"I spoke to USAID administrator Samantha Powers, who pledged support and assured us to work closely with other stakeholders such as the IMF, the World Bank and the G7," the PM tweeted.

Party defends Rahul's UK visit sans 'clearance'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

AMID reports in a section of media that Rahul Gandhi did not apply for "political clearance" from the Central government to travel abroad, the Congress on Wednesday defended him saying that MP's don't need permission from the government unless travelling as part of an official delegation.

"MPs don't need political clearance from PM or Govt, unless they are part of official delegation. Please don't blindly follow the PMO WhatsApp suggestions sent to TV channels," Congress' chief spokesperson Randeep Surjewala tweeted.

Government sources said Gandhi, who had attended a series of events in London, did not seek "political clearance" mandatory for all Parliamentarians, while some MPs who were part of the same events had applied for it and were cleared.

As per procedure cited by sources, all MPs need to inform the Ministry of External Affairs three weeks before any foreign trip. Sources cited that the protocol circulated among MPs says members have to apply for political clearance on the foreign ministry website three weeks in advance.

"All invitations from any foreign source — namely the government of any country or any foreign entity — are expected to be routed through the Ministry of External Affairs. However, in case such an invitation is received directly, members are required to bring it to the notice of the MEA and necessary political clearance of that Ministry should also be obtained for the purpose," the rules say.

Sibal files RS papers with SP backing

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

MINUTES after filing his nomination as an independent candidate supported by Samajwadi Party (SP) in Lucknow for a fresh term in Rajya Sabha on Wednesday, former Union Minister and veteran Congress leader Kapil Sibal claimed that he had resigned from his parent party on May 16 as he wanted to have an "independent voice" in the country.

A vocal critic of the Congress leadership and a prominent member of the G-23 group, Sibal has been a votary of overhaul in the grand old party. As per sources, Sibal is unlikely to join the SP but will remain an associated member. Sibal was supported by the SP for his previous tenure in Rajya Sabha. His current tenure ends in July.

Earlier on Wednesday morning, Sibal landed in Lucknow and met SP president Akhilesh Yadav before proceeding to file the nomination papers for the upcoming Rajya Sabha polls. UP will send 11 of the 57 members to be elected to the Upper House on June 10.

"I had tendered my resignation from the Congress party on May 16," he said after filing his nomination for Rajya Sabha elections in the presence of the SP chief in Lucknow.

"I have filed nomination as an independent candidate. I have always wanted to be an independent voice in the country. While staying in the Opposition we want to create an alliance so that we can take on the Narendra Modi government," he added. However, the veteran advocate and politician refrained from commenting anything on the Congress and summarised his pain just by saying that it was not easy to end a relationship of more than 30 years.

Speaking on Sibal's nomination, Akhilesh Yadav said: "Kapil Sibal has filed nomination. He is going to Rajya Sabha with SP's support. He has presented his opinions well in the Parliament. We hope he will present opinions of both SP as well as himself."

Sibal had represented senior Samajwadi Party leader Azam Khan in the Supreme Court in a cheating case and helped him in securing the interim bail.

No end to flow of Congress leaders to regional parties

RICHA SHARMA @ New Delhi

FORMER Congress leader Kapil Sibal's Rajya Sabha entry with the support of the SP shows continued muscle-flexing by regional parties who are looking to position themselves as an equal player with the grand old party ahead of the 2024 Lok Sabha elections.

While the opposition parties are looking to come on board to challenge the BJP in 2024, several regional players like TMC, TRS and AAP are talking about a non-Congress alliance to challenge the Congress's big brother attitude. Even the Left parties have questioned its weakening electoral grip.

"Congress has a countrywide presence but it has lost connection with the people over the years. It has to soon recognise and acknowledge the growing might of regional parties and ensure to treat them as an equal partner to challenge the BJP," said a senior opposition party leader.

Earlier, former Congress chief Rahul Gandhi had made an attempt to clear the air on his comments that only Congress can take on the BJP but it did send the wrong message to regional players.

There is a growing list of Congress leaders joining hands with non-BJP players like TMC, AAP, and NCP. Sibal is the third party leader along with former Punjab chief Sunil Jakhar and former Gujarat Congress working president Hardik Patel to bid goodbye to Congress this month. The Congress has tried to mollify some of Sibal's other G23 colleagues — Ghulam Nabi Azad, Anand Sharma, and Bhupinder Singh Hooda — by probable Rajya Sabha offer and appointments of their men at some important posts but Sibal remained untouchable.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

AMID deaths of journalists covering the Ukraine conflict, India has condemned incidents of violence against media in conflict and non-conflict zones.

Stating that media freedom and safety of journalists remain under threat around the world, including in situations which are the agenda of the United Nations Security Council (UNSC), Indian diplomat at UN Vidhisha Maitra said free media is fundamental to creating societies which are democratic and free. "We condemn the killings of journalists in conflict and non-conflict zones," said the counsellor at UN at the UNSC Arria-Formula meeting on the protection of journalists. Arria-Formula meeting are informal gatherings of UNSC members.

"Media gives us access to reliable information which shapes peace and security. We strongly condemn violence against them and threats of violence."

While countries have the primary responsibility to ensure the safety of journalists, the UNSC should consider how best it can promote and ensure accountability efforts for crimes committed against journalists, she said. "In India our Constitution and law guarantees right to freedom of expression. We have adhered to and fully support the Geneva Convention," Mitra added.

Adding a note of caution, she said scribes shouldn't heed to propaganda that promote terrorism. "It is imperative to reaffirm our approach to zero tolerance of terrorism in all its manifestations. Journalists, too, should be careful to not play up propaganda which can build up terror," Mitra said.

'GRADED ACTION'

EC weeds out registered unrecognised parties

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Election Commission on Wednesday said it would be initiating "graded action" against more than 2,100 registered unrecognised political parties (RUPP) for flouting various rules, including failure to furnish a contribution report, changing their name, head office, office-bearers and even address.

The poll panel said 66 such parties had claimed income tax exemption in the financial year 2020 without complying with statutory requirements under the Representation of the People Act, while 2,174 have not submitted contribution reports. It said that action would be initiated against those receiving donations without compliances.

The EC had last year flagged the presence of inactive, unrecognised political parties that have not contested any election and had asked the Law Ministry to give them the power to de-register them or allow them to act against them, the panel said.

"Eighty-seven non-existent RUPPs shall be deleted from the list and benefits under the Symbols Order (1968) withdrawn," the statement said.

The EC noted with "serious concern" that out of 2,796 unrecognised parties, many are neither taking part in the electoral process nor adhering to requirements.

BJP plans special outreach for 144 'weaker' Lok Sabha seats

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

THE BJP has identified more than 100 Lok Sabha constituencies in different states where the party's electoral strength is "very weak". The saffron party has chalked out special outreach programmes in these Parliamentary constituencies ahead of the 2024 Lok Sabha elections.

At a meeting of senior party leaders, ministers and office-bearers held on Wednesday at the party's central office here, Union Home Minister Amit Shah and BJP national president JP Nadda discussed the outreach programme to be carried out across the "weaker" constituencies ahead of the 2024 election.

A senior BJP leader who attended the meeting told this newspaper that the party has identified 144 constituencies where booth-level activities will be strengthened ahead of the next Lok Sabha elections.

"We were told about the special outreach programme, which would be started in 144 identified Lok Sabha constituencies at booth level to acquaint the people with the ideologies of party and achievements of the Modi government of the last eight years. The special focus will be to win the trust of voters belonging to minorities, Scheduled Castes and Scheduled Tribes and other marginalised communities," said a saffron party leader.

Notably, 70 per cent of the 144 "weaker" constituencies are either dominated by minorities or Scheduled Caste voters.

The sources, after attending the meeting on the "booth empowerment programme", further said all the Union ministers belonging to the BJP in the Central government have been assigned the task of covering at least two or three Assembly segments in each of the 144 Lok Sabha constituencies in the next two years .

The saffron party will start the special exercise most probably from the last week of June or the first week of July. The outreach programmes include interaction of Central ministers with the voters of the identified constituencies. The party is aiming to win at least 50% of the 144 seats in the next general election, the sources said.

After lull, heritage authority readies bye-laws for 101 sites across country

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE National Monuments Authority (NMA) has finalised heritage bye-laws for 101 protected sites covering 126 structures in various states. These regulations were ready around January 2020 however the Archaeological Survey of India (ASI) couldn't initiate consultation exercise to give them final shape due to workload and the coronavirus pandemic.

NMA chairman Tarun Vijay said that a separate department comprising four experts, which is headed by a conservation architect, was created to speed up the task by leaps and bounds.

As mandated by the Ancient Monuments and Archaeological Sites and Remains (AMASR) Act 2010, there should be separate bye-laws for all 3,693 heritage sites or monuments under the jurisdiction of ASI. And these rules were to be framed by 2012. However, in the last 10 years till January 2020, by-laws only for five monuments or sites were cleared.

The NMA was set up as per the provisions of the AMASR Act to deal with permissions being granted for construction and development work in the radius 300 metres around the sites. The authority issues NOC to undertake construction activities in reference to HBLs.

"The biggest joy and satisfaction was felt in the NMA when we finalised HBLs for the Bishnu temple (Manipur), Jagannath Temple (Puri), Chausath Yogini (Jabalpur), Jagatgrama Ashwamedha site and Lakha Mandal group of Shiva temples (Uttarakhand)," said Vijay.

Valley tense, security tight over Yasin verdict

Gupkar Alliance calls judgement 'unfortunate' & setback to peace

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

SRINAGAR remains engulfed in an uneasy calm as security across the Valley has been tightened after the NIA court awarded life imprisonment to separatist leader and JKLF chairman Mohammad Yasin Malik on Wednesday. Meanwhile, the Gupkar Alliance termed the judgement as "unfortunate and a setback to peace efforts" and suggested that he should avail all legal opportunities available to contest the verdict.

Security across the Valley has been beefed up, and mobile internet is said to have been suspended in some areas of Srinagar. Ahead of the pronouncement of the verdict, all the shops in the city centre Lal Chowk, Maisuma and downtown Srinagar remained closed on Wednesday.

Malik's family members and neighbours staged a protest in support of him at Maisuma, where he hails from. The youth of the area raised slogans and pelted stones on the security personnel, who fired tear gas shells to disperse them.

The security personnel later sealed the Maisuma area to prevent further clashes. Police drones hovered over Maisuma and adjoining areas to monitor the situation.

The separatist politics in Kashmir were weakened after the revocation of Article 370, as most of the top and middle rung separatist leaders are under detention. The chairman of the moderate Hurriyat faction, Mirwaiz Umar Farooq, has been under house detention since August 5, 2019.
Malik, along with Mirwaiz and former Hurriyat chairman late Syed Ali Geelani, had been spearheading the separatist movement since 2016 under the banner of Joint Resistance Leadership (JRL).

Meanwhile, the five-party People's Alliance for Gupkar Declaration (PAGD) termed the life imprisonment given to Malik as "unfortunate and a setback to the efforts for peace".

PEOPLES Democratic Party (PDP) leader and former chief minister Mehbooba Mufti's close aide, Waheed Para, who was under detention in a terror conspiracy case since November 2020, was granted bail by Jammu & Kashmir and Ladakh High Court on Wednesday.

A division bench of J&K High Court granted bail to him against a surety bond of ₹1 lakh.

The court directed Para to present himself before the investigating officer when required, surrender his passport, and not leave J&K without court's permission.

"Regarding the sedition charges under Section 124-A IPC, the issue is governed by the recent judgment of the Supreme Court in the case of S.G. Vombatkere vs. Union of India, 2022 LiveLaw (SC) 470, whereby the Supreme Court has directed that all the pending trials, appeals and proceedings with respect to the charge framed under Section 124-A of IPC shall be kept in abeyance," the court observed.

It added that the evidence gathered by the prosecution is too sketchy to be believed prima facie true, that too, to deny bail to the appellant.

Shivlinga worship plea moved to fast-track court

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

A fresh petition filed in Varanasi Civil Judge (Senior Division) court seeking permission to worship the Shivlinga reportedly found in the 'wuzu khana' of Gyanvapi Mosque during a court-ordered survey conducted recently, was transferred to a fast-track court which would hear the matter on May 30.

The case will now be heard by fast-track court judge Mahendra Pandey.

The petitioner, Kiran Singh, had urged the court to see that the defendants, including Anjuman Intezamia Masajid (AIM), should not cause obstacles in the entry of Hindu devotees and subsequent worship of the Shivlinga.

The petitioner had also urged the court to allow the Hindu devotees to perform worship of the Shivlinga and other deities until the main petition (filed by five Hindu women) was disposed of.

Meanwhile, the Varanasi district and sessions court would hear the petition filed by AIM challenging the maintainability of the Shringar Gauri-Gyanvapi case on Thursday. The petition was filed under Order VII Rule 11 of the Code of Civil Procedure (CPC) by the Muslim party.

The Muslim parties had challenged maintainability of the suit on ground that the 'Places of Worship Act of 1991' protected the status of all religious structures as they stood on August 15, 1947 and hence neither the right to worship could be awarded to Hindu parties nor a survey could be conducted on mosque premises.

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

SACKED Punjab Health Minister Dr Vijay Singla and his Officer on Special Duty (OSD), Pardeep Kumar, who is also his nephew, are now being investigated by the police over the tenders floated for the Punjab government's recently-launched Mohalla Clinics scheme.

Singla and Kumar were arrested on Tuesday for allegedly taking money for transfers and kickbacks in procurement and deals done by de-addiction centres.

The Punjab Police is now also scrutinising whether the two conducted any irregularities in the allotment of tenders for the AAP government's flagship scheme to be launched on August 15. In the first phase of the Mohalla Clinics scheme, 75 clinics will be launched.

The phone records and other details of the two are under scrutiny to check if any calls were made or to whom, or if they tried to get any favours here too, by using their code 'Shukrana' which meant commission.

They were allegedly taking a fixed percentage in contracts for procurement of various products in the health department. A close relative of Singla alleged that the sacked minister was the biggest player in the de-addiction business in the state as "deals'' were struck with private de-addiction centres for buprenorphine, which is used for opioid treatment.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

Anxiety grips Gujarat Congress over final 'yes' from Naresh Patel

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

ENERVATED by Hardik Patel's exit, the Gujarat Congress now appears waiting for a fortuitous 'yes' from Naresh Patel, a powerful Patidar satrap from Saurashtra. So much so that the party, believing in the "eventual joining" of Naresh, has kept key organizational positions vacant, party sources said.

Naresh Patel, 56, belongs to the Leuva Patidars or Patels, a sub-group of the numerically strong and politically influential Patidars. The community is spread across the Saurashtra region that accounts for about 48 seats in the 182-member Assembly. Naresh Patel is also the chairman of the influential Shree Khodaldham Trust (SKT).

Congress leaders have repeatedly talked about the party's invite to Naresh. The last time Gujarat party in-charge Raghu Sharma, state party chief Jagdish Thakor and others met him at a Rajkot farmhouse was on May 19. The party leaders have since been waiting for Naresh's final move. Everything in the party such as preparations for the Congress Mission 2022 have come to a halt, sources said.

An impression has gained ground within the party that the Patidar leader can choose any top position in the state unit panels such as the campaign, manifesto and publicity management committees. Party sources said the post of the campaign committee chief has been set aside for Naresh Patel.

"The BJP completed organizational appointments months ago. The party is now reaching out to voters individually at their homes across the state with a list of its achievements. On the other hand, the Congress has deferred its key appointments. This can prove fatal," said a senior Congress leader.

For the record, Congress spokesperson Manish Doshi attributes the delay in party appointments to the "busy schedules" of some leaders. "We'll be announcing some of these appointments in a few days, though for some posts, we may take a little longer," said Doshi.

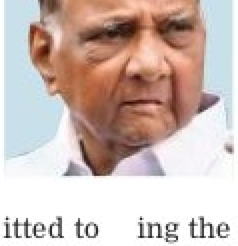
After Nitish, NCP chief Sharad Pawar insists on caste-based census

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

AFTER Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar, NCP chief Sharad Pawar on Wednesday demanded a caste-based census to ascertain the exact population percentage of each caste, including the Other Backward Class (OBC) community.



At a meet in Mumbai, the NCP passed a resolution that caste-based census should be carried out by the Centre. In the meeting, it was also decided that the local body elections should not be held without OBC reservations. "Maha Vikas Aghadi is committed to resolve the OBC reservations issue. It is not limited only to Maharashtra, but matters across India," Pawar said.

He added that it is the constitutional right of the OBC community to get the reservation, but the central government is depriving them of their rights. "The Scheduled Caste and Scheduled Tribe communities, after getting the reservation, progressed socially and economically. The same benefits should be given to the OBC," he said, adding that the BJP is against the reservations to the OBC.

"BJP was in power in the state and Centre in the last five years. What did they do for OBC reservations? Social reformer Shahu Maharaj, Mahatma Phule, Dr BR Ambedkar, etc worked to give justice to the oppressed classes. When Shahu Maharaj gave reservations to the backward classes, many opposed it, but he did not listen to them. We are facing the same problem today," Pawar said. He pointed out that though Nitish has formed the government with the help of the BJP, he is still demanding caste-based census.

NCP minister and OBC leader Chhagan Bhujbal said, "the prime minister calls himself OBC, but his government has refused to give data on the issue."

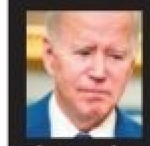
Gun control debate rages after teen kills 21 in US school

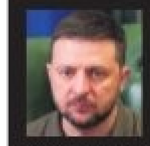
Eighth mass shooting in 2022, says Everytown gun control group ● Guns of all kinds, including high-powered assault rifles, are cheaper and widely available in US

LEADERS REACT

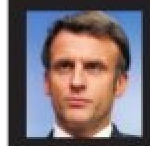


It's time to turn this pain into action for every parent, for every citizen of this country. It's time for those who obstruct or delay or block common-sense gun laws — Joe Biden, US President

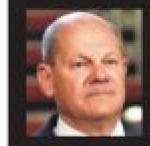
I am heartbroken… I pray for the children, for the adults killed and for their families. It is time to say enough to indiscriminate arms trafficking. Let us all commit to ensuring such tragedies can no longer take place — Pope Francis



I would like to express my condolences to all of the relatives and family members of the children who were killed. This is terrible to have victims of shooters in peaceful times — Volodymyr Zelenskyy, Ukrainian Prez



We share the shock and grief of the American people, and the rage of those who are fighting to end the violence — Emmanuel Macron, French President



My thoughts are with the injured and the bereaved of the victims of this inconceivable massacre for which hardly any words can be found — Olaf Scholz, German Chancellor

We have to stop this daily horror in the US — Pedro Sanchez, Spanish Prime Minister

WASHINGTON

A MASS shooting that left 19 schoolchildren and two teachers dead in the deeply pro-gun state of Texas on Tuesday increased pressure on US politicians to take action over the ubiquity of firearms — but also brought the grim expectation of little or no change.

It was the eighth mass shooting this year, according to the Everytown gun control group, and came 10 days after another 18-year-old murdered 10 African Americans at a supermarket in New York.

But nearly 10 years after a man slaughtered 20 children and six others in an attack on the Sandy Hook elementary school in Newtown, Connecticut, and four years after 17 were killed at a Florida high school, restrictions on gun purchases and ownership have not significantly changed.

"I had hoped, when I became president, I would not have to do this, again," a distraught President Joe Biden said as he led national mourning, vowing to overcome the US gun lobby and find a way to tighten gun ownership laws.

"Another massacre... an elementary school. Beautiful, innocent, second, third, fourth graders," he said. "I am sick and tired of it. We have to act."

But guns of all kinds, especially high-powered assault rifles and semi-automatic pistols are cheaper and more widely available than ever in the US.

And the all-too-familiar arguments over guns, public safety and rights re-opened immediately on the news of Tuesday's mass shooting.

The debate is set to intensify going into the weekend when Houston, Texas, hosts the annual convention of the country's leading pro-gun lobby, the National Rifle Association. Scheduled to speak are former president Donald Trump, Texas Governor Greg Abbott, Texas Senator Ted Cruz and other prominent Republicans.

Senator Chris Murphy, who represents Connecticut, made an emotional call on the Senate floor on Tuesday for lawmakers to take action.

"Nowhere else does that happen except here in the United States of America and it is a choice. It is our choice to let it continue," he said. Cruz pushed back, saying people will use the shooting to attack the right of people under the US Constitution's 2nd Amendment to own guns. "When there's a crime of this kind, it almost immediately gets politicized," Cruz said. Attacking constitutional gun rights "is not effective in stopping these crimes," he said.

Mass shootings have risen, as per Everytown. The country is swamped with guns. US firearms makers produced more than 139 million guns for commercial market over two decades from 2000, and the country imported another 71 million.

That includes high-powered assault rifles, which can be found for $500, and 9 millimeter pistols that combine ease of use, high accuracy and semi-automatic triggers with prices as low as $200.

But after every incident, proposals by state and federal lawmakers to tighten laws are rebuffed by conservative colleagues, who count on voter support from a sizeable portion of the public opposed to gun control. AFP

Gunman posted on FB before attack

Uvalde (US): Texas governor Greg Abbott said the gunman had warned on social media minutes before the attack that he was going to shoot up a school. He said 18-year-old Salvador Ramos used an AR-15 in the attack. About 30 minutes prior to it, Ramos made three posts. Abbott said Ramos posted that he was going to shoot his grandmother, then that he had shot the woman, and finally that he was going to shoot an elementary school.

Deadliest shootings in US

There have been dozens of shootings and other attacks in US schools and colleges over the years, but until the massacre at Colorado's Columbine High School in 1999, the number of dead tended to be in the single digits. Since then, the number of shootings that included schools and killed 10 or more people has mounted. The most recent two were both in Texas.

SANTA FE HIGH SCHOOL, May 2018
A 17-year-old opened fire at a Houston-area high school, killing 10 people, most of them students. The suspect has been charged with murder.

MARJORY STONEMAN DOUGLAS HIGH SCHOOL, February 2018
An attack left 14 students and three staff members dead at the school in Parkland, Florida, and injured many others. The 20-year-old suspect was charged with murder.

UMPQUA COMMUNITY COLLEGE, October 2015
A man killed nine people at the school in Roseburg, Oregon, and wounded nine others, then killed himself.

SANDY HOOK ELEMENTARY SCHOOL, December 2012
A 19-year-old man killed his mother at their home in Newtown, Connecticut, then went to the nearby Sandy Hook Elementary School and killed 20 first graders and six educators. He took his own life.

VIRGINIA TECH, April 2007
A 23-year-old student killed 32 people in Blacksburg, Virginia, in April 2007; more than two dozen others were wounded. The gunman then killed himself.

COLUMBINE HIGH SCHOOL, April 1999
Two students killed 12 of their peers and one teacher at the school in Littleton, Colorado, and injured many others before killing themselves.

RED LAKE HIGH SCHOOL, March 2005
A 16-year-old student killed his grandfather and the man's companion at their Minnesota home, then went to nearby Red Lake High School, where he killed five students, a teacher and a security guard before shooting himself.

Govt plans scheme on discoms dues

Power ministry claims the scheme to save ₹19,833 cr on account of late payment surcharge

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

THE power ministry is all set to introduce a new scheme that will allow discoms to pay off their dues towards gencos in 48-monthly installments.

The ministry claims the scheme will save ₹19,833 crore on account of late payment surcharge. According to the data available on the PRAAPTI portal, discoms' overdues (excluding disputed amounts and late payment surcharge (LPSC)) stood at ₹1,00,018 crore till May 18, 2022. "The inability of discoms to pay dues impacts the entire value chain of the power sector. Considering this situation, the Ministry of Power is working on a scheme to mitigate the financial woes of the distribution companies (Discoms) that are unable to pay their dues," said the ministry in a statement.

Under the scheme, the government is planning to give one-time relaxation to discoms wherein the amount outstanding (includes principal and late payment surcharges) on the date of notification of the scheme will be frozen without further imposition of LPSC. "The liquidation of outstanding dues in deferred manner without imposition of LPSC will give discoms time to shore up their finances. At the same time, the generating firms will benefit from assured monthly payments, which otherwise were not forthcoming to them." However, in case of delay in payment, the late payment surcharge will be payable on the entire outstanding dues, which otherwise was exempted, the ministry said. Total outstanding dues owed by discoms to power producers rose by 17.3% year-on-year to ₹1,23,244 crore in April 2022. Discoms in Uttar Pradesh, Telangana, Rajasthan, Karnataka, Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra and Tamil Nadu owe the major portion of the dues to gencos. Thus, the government believes the scheme is going to benefit states like Tamil Nadu and Maharashtra, which have large outstanding dues and will save over ₹4,500 crore each. Uttar Pradesh will save nearly ₹2,500 crore, while States like Andhra Pradesh, Jammu and Kashmir, Rajasthan and Telangana will save in the range of ₹1,100 crore to ₹1,700 crore.

Govt urges states for zero diesel use in agri by 2024

Power minister R K Singh on Wednesday urged the states to make efforts for zero diesel consumption in agriculture by 2024. The minister said energy transition is the only means of reducing carbon emissions and fulfilling our commitments made at international forums, therefore, the states and Union Territories have to work together on multiple tracks. He stressed that the role of state governments is significant for successful reduction in emission intensity by 45% by 2030 as compared to the 2005 level. The minister has asked the chief ministers of states, and Lt Governors of UTs to set up state-level steering committees for energy transition. "First track is the addition of renewables to the electricity." ENS

No additional borrowing in FY23: Govt sources

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE Centre may not need additional borrowing in the current financial year (FY23) even after taking a huge financial hit from the excise duty cut on petrol and diesel and the newly announced cooking gas subsidy for the poor.

According to sources, the Centre will stick to the borrowing calendar set for FY23. The reduction in excise duties will cause an annual loss of ₹1 lakh crore to the government, while the subsidy on cooking gas will put an additional burden of ₹61,000 a year.

"At the moment, it doesn't seem we need extra capital. So, we will be sticking to the borrowing calendar fixed for FY23. If there will be a shortfall in the capex, then we will withdraw the funds from the Consolidated Funds of India," a government source said.

The government has budgeted for ₹16.6 lakh crore borrowing accounting for a 6.4% fiscal deficit in 2022-23.

The source added that the much-awaited GST rates rationalisation exercise will get delayed owing to the inflationary pressures. The GST Council's 47th meeting will be held in the second half of June.

However, despite inflation continuously remaining above the RBI's upper tolerance limit of 6%, there are no plans to revise the medium-term inflation target (4% plus-minus 2).

The source clarified that the rupee-rouble trade mechanism is very much on the table. "The Indian government will continue to buy cheaper oil from Russia. Talks on rupee-rouble trade are still going on with Russia. The Centre has not yet finalised the discount."

Privatisation of two public sector banks will be completed in the current fiscal as part of disinvestment plans. The Government will dilute its stake to 26% from 51% in these two banks, the source added.

Cabinet gives approval for 29.5% stake sale in HZL

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE Union Cabinet on Wednesday approved 29.5% stake sale in Hindustan Zinc Ltd (HZL) as part of the government's disinvestment drive, according to sources. The stake sale may fetch the Centre anywhere between ₹34,000-₹36,000 crore,

"The shares may be offloaded in tranches via offer for sale. DIPAM will decide the process," sources added.

Vedanta holds 64.9% stake in HZL. As per reports, Vedanta Chairman Anil Agarwal had said that the firm may buy 5% stake after taking into account the price of shares on offer.

Last year, the Supreme Court had given its green signal to the government to dilute its residual stake in HZL. The Centre in its affidavit had earlier stated the remaining shareholding of 29.54% would be sold in the open market. At the same time, the top court had also directed the Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) to examine the alleged irregularities in the initial transaction via which the government diluted its 26% stake in HZL, which made the privatisation of the company possible. The court had said the government can disinvest the remaining 29.5% of its shares in the firm, as it is not a government company anymore.

The apex court observed in spite of the recommendations for registration of a regular case into the alleged inconsistencies in the disinvestment in 2002, the initial inquiry was closed. SC had directed that the investigating agency should register a regular case and CBI file its periodic status report to the court.

Import duty cut will lower cost of kitchen appliances, say companies

SAMIKSHA GOEL @ New Delhi

THE government's recent move to waive customs duty on import of some raw materials used by the steel industry like coking coal and ferronickel in a bid to lower the input cost for the domestic industry comes as a piece of positive news for the consumers.

Industry players in the home appliances industry say the move is well-timed and will help reduce the cost of home appliances.

Steel is used in the manufacturing of a majority of kitchen appliances and a reduction in customs duty on import will help bring down the cost of manufacturing, which many companies have been struggling with due to soaring commodity prices.

Sunil Agarwal, Director of kitchenware manufacturer Vinod Cookware said the cut-off lowers manufacturing costs for producers and eventually tames the prices of final goods for consumers.

As for Vinod Cookware, Agarwal said, this tax reduction reduces the manufacturing cost for high-demand products like Stainless Steel Pressure cookers and SAS metal cookware. He, however, adds the slash in this area may be offset by the hike in transportation costs and other raw materials.

But In the long run, he said, "the reworked custom duty will make high-quality products accessible to customers at discounted and affordable prices, a key deciding factor while purchasing home appliances."

Kamal Nandi, business head and executive vice-president at Godrej Appliances, also believes the move would help bring down input costs. However, he said, due to inventory available with steel mills and the quarterly contracts with customers, the price reduction would be applicable in the second quarter of FY23. "The appliance manufacturers are in discussion with steel manufacturers to assess the quantum of reduction." India has also hiked up their export tax on iron ore up to increase the domestic availability of steel. Vishal Akhauri, Business Head, Consumer Durables, Surya Roshni said frequent Increases in commodity prices have had an impact of around 20% rise as compared to pre-Covid prices.

"This has delayed the entry of new technologies, including energy saving offerings, due to unstable market prices. Recent duty cuts will help to cool off the overheated inflationary trends."

RAPIDO TARGETS 50 MILLION CUSTOMERS BY 2022-END

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

Bike-taxi platform Rapido, which recently raised $180 million in a Series-D round, has grown 2.5x to pre-pandemic levels. Its valuation has crossed $830 million, and with the next round of funding, the Swiggy-backed start-up will enter the unicorn club.

"We don't chase for that, and whenever it comes, we take it. We, as a company, have not been focusing on valuations. Closer from the number point of view, we don't know when that will happen," Aravind Sanka, co-founder, Rapido, told TNIE.

It has over 25 million customers and over 1.5 million driver partners. Rapido aims to serve over 50 million customers by the end of this year. It does close to 20 million orders per month, and there are 5% women riders and nearly 20% women customers.

When Rapido was launched seven years ago, the bike taxi culture was something new to India, as the bike concept, sitting behind a stranger did not exist. After building the culture, Rapido is now present in 100 cities.

Rapido's core user segment is youngsters between the age group of 20 and 35 years, and it is also working on ways to attract 50-55 years old to make use of bike rides.

While it took them some years to build the bike taxi category, the auto category that they entered during the second Covid wave, took just a year to onboard drivers. "We were able to do 50% of what we were doing in the bike taxi within one year," said Sanka.

Apart from bike taxi and auto categories, Rapido is also into logistics- delivering food and groceries. Bike taxi is its core category, as 60% of its business comes from it, 30% from autos and 10% from delivery. Rapido has also partnered with food delivery platforms such as Swiggy and grocery major BigBasket, among others. Recently, the start-up has also partnered with TVS Motor Company.

"We started the delivery category before Covid. But during the lockdown period, we saw the mobility business taking time to recover and we doubled down on the delivery initiative. We scaled more than five times compared to the pre-pandemic level," said Rapido co-founder, adding that they are focusing on first mile and last mile connectivity.

Budget airline SpiceJet settles dispute over $24 million payments with Credit Suisse

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

SPICEJET and Switzerland-based investment banking company Credit Suisse have decided to put an end to a legal battle, in which Madras high court had ordered winding up of the airline.

The two parties have signed and concluded settlement with regard to a pending dispute.

"SpiceJet had already provided bank guarantee of US $5 million on the direction of the Madras HC and there is no adverse financial liability on the company. The settlement involves payment of a certain amount upfront and balance amount over a mutually-agreed timeline," the airline said on Wednesday. The legal battle between the two parties began when Credit Suisse dragged SpiceJet to the court in 2021 after it failed to make payments of over $24 mn to maintenance, repair and overhauling service provider SR Technics. Credit Suisse had a agreement with SR Technics that gave it the right to receive payments from the airline. In December 2021, the high court ordered winding up of SpiceJet for failing to make payment to SR Technics. However, it stayed its order for 3 weeks and directed the airline to deposit $5 mn. The case was then heard in the Supreme Court, which in February gave SpiceJet 3 weeks' time to resolve the dispute and warned about declaring it insolvent.

Patidar the Giant killer sets up battle royale

ASHIM SUNAM @ Bengaluru

ROYAL Challengers Bangalore, despite having some star studded players in the past, have failed to win the title in 14 years. At the start of every season, 'will it be their season' does the rounds. Keeping their history in mind, there were no huge expectations from the franchise, but someone or the other has delivered at crucial junctures this season, helping the franchise in keeping the flames of their first title alive.

They were hoping for something similar when RCB faced Lucknow Super Giants at the Eden Gardens on Wednesday. A surprised hero emerged. It was not the likes of Virat Kohlis, Faf Du Plessis, Glenn Maxwells, who stole the show. It was a batter from Madhya Pradesh, Rajat Patidar, who came up with an astounding batting display, scoring an unbeaten maiden ton, to help Bangalore end up with 207/4. His 54-ball 112, which included 12 fours and seven sixes, will go down as one of the best innings in the playoffs.

In reply, KL Rahul started slow before finishing with 79 runs from 58 balls. Deepak Hooda smashed a 26-ball 45 but LSG eventually fell short by 14 runs.

Earlier, Patidar, who featured for the franchise last season, was not even considered good enough to be bought at the IPL auction by any of the teams. It did come as a big surprise considering his base price was just 20 lakhs. Eventually, early April, he was brought in as a replacement for the injured Luvnith Sisodia by RCB and the player brought his A game when his team needed it the most.

With Du Plessis dismissed in the first over, coming in at number three, the pressure was on him to deliver and stay alongside Kohli. He had a good look at the pitch for ten balls or so, and decided to cut loose in the sixth over, smashing Krunal Pandya for three fours and a six, which pumped his batting partner at the other end, to end the powerplay at 52/1. As the game progressed, Patidar became even more confident, playing some incredible shots against both the pacers and the spinners. Though others around him like Kohli and Maxwell did not time the ball well, Patidar gave a feeling that he was batting on a different surface. One of the main reasons for his success this innings was his approach, as he was always on the lookout of scoring quick runs. Even when the likes of Kohli, Maxwell and others lost their wickets, he was a man on a mission. It was in the 16th over of the innings, one realised the batter is here to make a statement. He hit three sixes and two fours off Ravi Bishnoi to reach the nervous nineties.

However, it was the Lucknow fielders, who showed nerves as they dropped him a couple of times en route Patidar's hundred in the 18th over. Catching was a big problem for LSG as Dinesh Karthik, who was dropped by Rahul early on in his innings, smashed unbeaten 23-ball 37, including five fours and a six. Brief scores: RCB 207/4 in 20 overs (Patidar 112 n.o, Dinesh 37 n.o) bt LSG 193/6 in 20 ovs (Rahul 79; Harshal , Hazlewood 3/43).

Order is no less than 1975 WC triumph: Khan

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

CALLING the Delhi High Court's decision to place Hockey India under a three-member Committee of Administrators (CoA) a historical order, petitioner Aslam Sher Khan compared it with India's World Cup triumph in 1975. Coming on the field with seven minutes remaining in the semifinal against hosts Malaysia, who were leading 2-1 then, Khan scored the equaliser to take the contest into extra-time where Harcharan Singh scored the winner.

"If not bigger, this judgement is not any less than the country's only World Cup title. There also, I entered the field late and scored the equaliser and coincidentally here with this petition, I have played a decisive role in giving a new direction to sports in the country," Khan told this daily.

In his petition, he had challenged the Indian Olympic Association (IOA) president Narinder Batra's appointment as a life member of Hockey India apart from raising a few other objections. "The judgement covers all the aspects as it will become a landmark decision in the country's sporting history. It has ensured that hockey activities will continue under the watchful eyes of the newly-appointed CoA members and at the same time, it will make sure those who have misused their position will have to pay the price." Khan was all praise for the decision wherein the Court empowered the CoA to initiate the recovery process from individuals who have been in posts in breach of the Sports Code.

The order says that 'persons who have been in posts such as life president, life member and "CEO on the Management Committee" (with voting rights), which is clearly in breach of the Sports Code and have enjoyed benefits of such office and expenses have been incurred on them by a NSF in breach of the law must be asked to return the expended amounts.' However, the court said that recovery against the current CEO would not be warranted as it was informed that the appointment was made in the capacity of an administrator and the CEO has no voting rights in the management of HI. "I just want the federations to run sports properly in the country," Khan added.

Jatin counselled

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

JUDOKA Jatin, who threatened to take his own life if barred from Commonwealth Games selection trials, was on Wednesday counselled by coaches and SAI officials present at the venue.

The two-day trials to select the men's team in three weight categories started in Patiala on Wednesday but as was expected Jatin was not allowed to take part in his weight category (60kg).

The trials for women athletes were held in New Delhi on Monday and Tuesday.

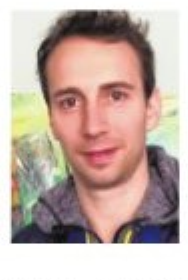
"I met NIS Patiala executive director Raj Singh Bishnoi at the facility. He advised me not to lose heart and continue training. He along with coaches also ensured me that the Judo Federation of India (JFI) will try to reduce the existing two-year ban imposed on me," Jatin told this daily.

The selection committee constituted by the SAI after derecognition of JFI is expected to announce the results on Thursday.

Can only do short-term contracts: Doubles coach

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @ Chennai

DANE Mathias Boe, the current doubles coach of Satwiksairaj Rankireddy and Chirag Shetty, will officially train them for only the next six months. Beyond that, "we will have to see," he said during a conversation with this daily on Wednesday. "My life is such that I can only do short-term contracts because my future's also a little bit uncertain," he said. "So it's difficult for me to say 'next 3-4 years, it's possible for me to work full-time with the boys'… that's not possible right now.



"I need to take it in short intervals and see how it is. So right now it's (the association) for the next six months. After that, we will have to see how my situation is and also what Badminton Association of India (BAI) and the players will like… we will have to see."

In the next six months, Boe says 'it's my job to make them hungrier for more'. "Winning the Thomas Cup at a young age is obviously a very big thing," he said. "It's one of the three or four biggest things you can win in the sport. I want to win more titles with them, it's my job to make them hungrier after this. Make them even better in the future."

If there's only complaint that can be made against the pair, it's that they haven't racked up the titles on Tour. On the circuit, the duo have won only two titles (India Open, Thailand Open) since the beginning of 2019. It's something the 41-year-old wants to change. "Think they should be able to challenge more, and win more tournaments than what they are doing right now. Pretty confident that we are going to be able to do that going forward."

MONIKA MONALISA

Lahari Music brothers – G Manoharan Naidu and G Thulasiram Laharivelu – have become trailblazers in the South Indian music industry by producing back-to-back hits for films like RRR, Baahubali, KGF, among a host of others

MUSIC TO THE EARS

G Thulasiram Laharivelu

G Manoharan Naidu

KGF, Baahubali and RRR... the music of these movies continue to linger in the minds of fans. And if the music of these blockbusters reached fans, it is because of two brothers from Bengaluru — G Manoharan Naidu and G Thulasiram Laharivelu, aka Lahari Velu, who run music label Lahari Music. The label has been on a roll this year, producing back-to-back hits, including that of two-time Grammy award winner Ricky Kej and veteran rock guitarist Stewart Copeland's album Divine Tides.

Thulasiram (57), who is the director of the music label, feels nothing less than being blessed to be able to recognise good music. He recalls in the year 1987, the music label bagged the contract of Sandalwood star V Ravichandran's movie Premaloka. And people thought the owners were making a huge mistake. "Gandhinagar laughed at our company for investing so much on Hamsalekha, who was a new and upcoming music director then. We had bought the audio rights for the movie for ₹4,50,000. In those days they were giving ₹100 or ₹200 as royalty," laughs Thulasiram as he recalls his early days. The movie didn't do well at the box office for the first five weeks, but went on to become a classic. The label sold 36 lakh cassettes, which was a big number for those days.

Same was the story for the movie Roja in 1991, which was the debut of Grammy winning music director AR Rahman. "For this movie too, people questioned our judgement. Rahman was a budding music director at that time and Ilayaraja was a huge name. What was in our favour was that Mani Ratnam was directing the movie. He was the only hero in the movie," says Thulasiram, adding that the rest is history.

Despite so many hits, Thulasiram has seen many ups and downs but it was a moment of pride when the label's name was announced at the Grammy's when Divine Tides won the award. "We still live in a joint family of 36 members and most of us were up late at night to see the award function. When they announced Lahari Music, we were almost in tears," says an emotional Thulasiram.

While it may sound like the brothers have a formula for success, they have also faced their own share of hurdles. They were especially concerned about digitisation of music. "We did fear that period. We didn't know what to do and thought the industry had changed for good. It took us around four years to change our approach and survive," says Thulasiram, adding, "The pandemic was a rough time but since everyone was indoors, music turned out to be a huge support. So, it actually turned out to be profitable for us."

Started by Thulasiram's elder brother Naidu (67), in the year 1972, with an amount of ₹500, the 48-year-old company always works on bringing out good music. "For us, it is the music that matters. Whether it's film music, folklore, or an independent artiste, our selection criteria is only good music," says Naidu, founder of the label.

This platform helps aspiring entrepreneurs find their co-founders and brainstorm to translate an idea into a business deal

ANILA KURIAN

HOW many times have you wished for the right resources to turn your idea into a reality? Which is why global venture capital firm Antler has launched a platform for entrepreneurs to find their co-founders, brainstorm and collaborate with them to translate an idea into a startup. The 'Antler India Residency' programme has got responses from Bengaluru, Delhi and Mumbai.

About the fourth flagship programme, VC and programme director Nandini Vishwanath says, "We spent a lot of time since the beginning of the pandemic to understand and research vendors, their needs and eventually built a platform for them to connect with the necessary partners for their company." She points out that wealth creation is available now but the market is a tough place. The residency will involve a community of engineers, developers, product managers, fintech experts, sales leaders and operation specialists, who will be part of the 12-week activity programme.

"It's very important for entrepreneurs to collaborate both within and outside the work environment. They need to understand working styles, personal value systems and the mindset of who they will be working with. Different phases of the programme will help establish that and build on their idea," says Vishwanath.

When it comes to starting a company, one of the key elements is risk appetite, Vishwanath says. "The motivation to know why you want to start a company shouldn't be to become rich or be attracted to the glamorous life CEOs have been projecting post their success stories. Very few people talk about the many failures they have gone through, the layoffs, not having enough funds, and failed ideas and experiments. While you get to hear them only after they have achieved success, it's important to know that there have been more failures in the startup world than successes," she says.

In order to keep one mentally motivated, Vishwanath says it's important to work with the right people and take care of one's mental health too. "What works for me is reading fictional books, exercising and knowing when to back away from a situation. There will be many challenges that will be thrown at you but you should know when the right time is and how to approach it," she says.

Giving another tip to aspiring entrepreneurs, she says it's necessary to evaluate the situation every step of the way. "As a founder, one skill to develop is to have a micro vision. In time, you should also have a macro vision that no one else in the company will have. Don't always think short-term to achieve success; think long-term and how to achieve it with short goals," she says.

M. K. Agrotech takes a step towards making India self-reliant in cooking oil

The company launches a unique initiative - Hosa Prapancha - to collaborate and support farmers with oilseed crops

"How about getting back to our roots and reduce the imports? This was a question that was lingering in our mind for quite some time. That's when we decided to launch 'Hosa Prapancha'- an initiative that will help us take a step towards making India self-sufficient and redefine the edible oil segment

- GOKHARAN SINGH PAWAR,
General Manager, M K Agrotech

The ongoing Russia-Ukraine war has caused a devastating economic and social impact across the world, forcing a curb on edible oil supply. Since the inception of war, prices of edible oil have risen up to 50% and many countries are grappling with this restriction that may or may not avalanche into crisis. Countries like India are looking at being Aatmanirbhar - self-sufficient and empower the Indian industry.

Taking a leaf out of this book, Karnataka based M.K Agrotech, is opening itself to self-reliance, with the help of an initiative titled - Hosa Prapancha. Under this initiative, the company plans to collaborate with the farming community across South India and create a sustainable ecosystem for farmers – from providing groundnut and sunflower seeds to procuring their produce. Some of the key concerns and anxieties of the farmers will be addressed in the journey and an environment will be created where they feel safe and empowered.

This is a welcome change, considering India's gigantic capability as the 2nd largest producer of groundnut in the world, but lagging behind with productivity that is only 1/3rd of China and 1/4th of the US.

"How about getting back to our roots and reduce the imports? This was a question that was lingering in our mind for quite some time. That's when we decided to launch 'Hosa Prapancha'- an initiative that will help us take a step towards making India self-sufficient and redefine the edible oil segment," said Gokharan Singh Pawar, General Manager, M K Agrotech.

Through Hosa Prapancha, M.K Agrotech seeks to encourage the production by reaching out to a minimum of 1000 farmers in Karnataka and creating a high-functioning oil seed cluster in India.

ARDHA BADDHA KONASANA

(HALF BUTTERFLY POSE VARIATION FORWARD BEND)

In this pose, one leg is extended, and the upper body is bent forward whereas in Baddha Konasana, both legs are folded. It also involves stretching of hip, thighs, lower back and pelvic muscles. Hence, it should be done on an empty stomach, preferably early in the morning. Or give 3-4 hours gap between the meal and practise. The bowel and bladder also should be emptied before taking to this pose. This is a beginner-level pose. It is very useful to prepare for advanced poses.

STEPS

- Get into Dandasana (Staff Pose). Take 2-3 deep breaths.
- Spread your legs as wide as you can. Remain here for a few breaths, and connect to how the inner thighs and hamstring are stretching.
- Fold your left leg in a way that your left foot is near the perineum bone. Keep your right leg extended.
- Inhale, bring both arms up, and while exhaling, bend forward from your waist. Always pull the navel in towards your spine, avoiding injury.
- Stay here for 4-5 breaths and feel the stretch in your entire right leg, and left hip. Feel that your spine is opening up slowly and gradually.
- Inhale, lift your arms and gently come back. Repeat on the other side.
- Finally, relax and remain in Dandasana, hands back variation with knees bent with a gentle backbend. Take a few breaths.

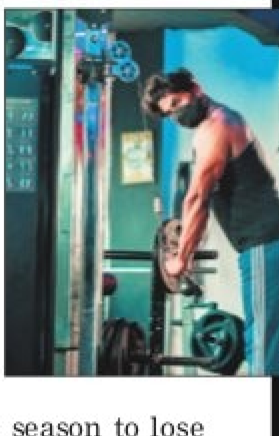
① I am a regular at the gym but can hardly run for an hour on the treadmill. What should I do?

A: So happy to know that you are unable to run on the treadmill. I would rather you used the stair master, cross-trainer or rowing machine and benefit. The run on the treadmill is passive, so don't bother. Instead, choose to walk briskly on the treadmill.



② Next month is my cousin's wedding and I need to lose 20 kg. Any quick-fix methods?

A: Damn! Seriously, what were you doing until now? Why wait for a reason or season to lose weight? Why not look wow every single day.

Sorry dear, it's next to impossible for anyone to lose that kind of weight in a month. To top it, it's unhealthy too. You can lose about 2.5 to 3 kg by staying committed to diet and exercise. I suggest you opt for black clothing for this wedding, but start off with your diet and exercise asap.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT MONKEYPOX

Even as we contend with Covid-19, another disease, monkeypox, seems to have hit the globe. Here are important pointers about this disease

DR MANOHAR KN

THE US has seen seven cases of monkeypox. This is a virus transmitted from animals to humans and is spread through contact with blood or bodily fluids containing the virus. The first case was detected in May '22 by a traveller returning from Nigeria. Two weeks later, two more people were diagnosed with monkeypox, but health authorities said that it was not connected with the initial case. Later, four more cases were found. Here too, no link to the existing cases was observed. The first-generation smallpox vaccines are not available anymore to the public but in 2019, a newer vaccine was accepted for the prevention of smallpox and monkeypox. However, it is not widely available.

Triggered by a smallpox-like virus

Monkeypox is created by a virus of the same name that is closely related to smallpox, which has now been eradicated completely from the planet. Two of them are members of the Orthopoxvirus genus in the family Poxviridae. Monkeypox was first discovered in 1958 when outbursts of a disease-causing pox were discovered in monkeys held in captivity for research. It was first reported in humans in 1970 in the Democratic Republic of the Congo (DRC) and has since been seen in Central and West Africa.

In 2020, the World Health Organization (WHO) gave an account of 4,594 suspected cases of monkeypox, including 171 deaths (case fatality ratio of 3.7 percent). These reports are suspect since there was no PCR testing facilities available in the area where the cases were detected.

Causes spots all over the body

Indications of the condition occur between five and 13 days of infection, in spite of the fact that it can take up to 21 days for them to appear. Symptoms mostly include fever, headache, backache, muscle ache, swollen lymph nodes, chills, and exhaustion, and with the fever, a rash tends to erupt, concentrated on the hands, face, and feet before spreading to other areas of the body. It can spread to the inside of the mouth, the cornea, and the genitals. The rash continues until it forms a scab which falls off, and in some cases, large parts of the skin can drop off the body.

Can spread by human-to-human contact

The virus usually spreads from infected wild animals, especially primates and rodents, which is seen in the rainforests of Central and West Africa and it can also spread by human-to-human close contact. Similar to viruses like Ebola, transmission only takes place through closeness, by contact with lesions, body fluids, respiratory droplets, or contaminated materials.

Currently there is no cure, except for an old vaccine

At present, WHO has not suggested any specific treatment for monkeypox. But there are antivirals, such as tecovirimat, licensed to defend against orthopoxviruses.

The smallpox vaccine was key to fighting smallpox decades ago, and this vaccine can be highly effective (85 per cent) in preventing monkeypox. However, the first-generation smallpox vaccines are not available now to the public. However, in 2019, a newer vaccine was accepted for the prevention of smallpox and monkeypox, but it is not widely available.

(The writer is consultant internal medicine physician, Manipal Hospital Old Airport Road)

Can be diagnosed through PCR tests

Monkeypox can be detected with the help of PCR testing, WHO says, because orthopox viruses can create antigens and trigger antibodies that are similar to other related viruses. Thus, analyses of these cases cannot pinpoint that the virus is monkeypox.

KAMBALA, a popular rural sport, has caught the interest of a few filmmakers. One of the filmmakers delving into this subject is director Rajendra Singh Babu. Titled Veera Kambala, the subject will give a dramatised account of how this rural sport is integrated with our culture. The veteran director, popularly known for movies like Nagarahole, Tony, Bandana, and Muttina Haara, is excited to explore a subject on this 2,000-year-old sport. The film will be released in multiple languages including Tulu and English. "We have seen how people across the world enjoy the Spanish bullfights. Likewise, we want to introduce Kambala to the entire world. There is a strong relationship between man, animal, earth, and nature, which is knitted through the narration," says the director, who has written the film's story and screenplay. Vijay Kumar Kodiyal Bile has written the dialogues for Veera Kambala, which is produced by Arun Rai Thodar under the AR Productions banner.

Rajendra, who has set the film in the coastal area, is almost through with the shooting process, except for a court scene. "We are planning to hit cinema halls worldwide in October," the director reveals.

With Rajendra Singh Babu's son and actor Aditya, and Radhika Narayan playing pivotal roles, the subject demanded actors from the coastal belt. The film stars Tulu-speaking actors and theatre artists from Rangayana and NSD. Naveen Padil, Gopinath Bath, Rajashekar Kotiyan, Mime Ramesh, Usha Bandari, Bhoraja Vamanjur, Geeta Suratkal, and Suresh Shetty also star in prominent roles.

Dialogue writer Nataraj's directorial debut Wheelchair Romeo to hit theatres this week

CE FEATURES

NATARAJ, the dialogue writer of films like Romeo, Orange, Zoom, and Chaddi Dost, is set to make his directorial debut with Wheelchair Romeo. The film will hit screens on May 27.

Written by Nataraj, the comedy-drama made all the right noises with its trailer. With heartfelt emotions at the centre of its narrative, Wheelchair Romeo is also about father-son bonding. The film stars Ram Chethan as a person in a wheelchair whose encounter with Mayuri Kyatari, a visually impaired sex worker becomes the pivotal plot point. Interestingly, the idea of the subject came from a show on National Geographic Channel. "An episode based in Australia has the father taking his son to a brothel. The thought was sensitive but was amusing too. I gave a comic twist to this line and made it into Wheelchair Romeo," says Nataraj. The film has Suchendra Prasad appearing in an important role and also features Rangayana Raghu and Tabla Nani as supporting characters.

Backed by Venkatachaliah under Agastya Creations banner, Wheelchair Romeo has Bharath BJ as the composer.

CE FEATURES

ON his 50th birthday, Karan Johar has announced his next directorial. The filmmaker known for family dramas (Kabhi Khushi Kabhie Gham) and romances (Kuch Kuch Hota Hai, Ae Dil Hai Mushkil) will next helm an action flick.

"Hello all,

This is a note of reflection and one of immense excitement! I turn 50 today (a number that seemed like a distant nightmare), while I know it's kind of a mid-point of my life but I can't help my wannabe millennial self from existing. Some call it a mid-life crisis, I proudly call it just 'living life without any apologies'. I have worked in the movie industry for over 27 years and I'm blessed to have had the best experience ever!!! Telling stories, creating content, nurturing talent, and watching the finest artists perform in front of my privileged eyes.. these years are like being in a massive dream that made all the sleeplessness seem worthwhile! I am grateful for the brickbats, the bouquets, the praising souls, the public trolls...ALL OF IT!!! It's all been a huge part of my learning curve and self-growth...

My love forever,
KARAN JOHAR"
